

nineteen
95
Best of Times

HERE WE GO . . .

On September 3, 1988, students were once again reunited for the first day of school. The students talked of their summer adventures, while teachers prepared for another year.

"New faces in old places."

Pocahontas County High School experienced new students as well as new teachers. The freshmen learned to handle those awkward moments such as being five minutes late for class because it took them that long to find the class.

The upperclassmen eased back into the same routine, having at least one year of experience to help them out.

It soon was apparent that school was back in full swing.

Beth Roach, senior, enjoys spending her mornings in Mr. Stewart's room. ↑

Kurt Behrens, junior, Billy Doyle, senior, and Richard McMillion, freshman, take time out to discuss weekend plans. ➡

John Arbogast and Shane Alikakos, sophomores, Leslie Sheers, Becky Campbell, Missy Jordan, and Steve Curry, freshmen, enjoy spending their free time together. ↑

Nancy Hefner, senior, seems to be climbing the wall while attempting to make it through another day. ←

Monte Friel threatens the photographer with his tools from Electricity II class. ↓

HERE WE GO . . .

Time
Never stops for precious moments
Time
Never flows when the roads are rough
Time
Is a memory of the past
Time
Is a shallow glimpse of the future
Time
Is but what we make of it.

— Jeanette Barton

Susan Shreve, junior, studies dilligently during Chemistry class. ➤

Missie Winger, junior, patiently sorts magazines in the library. ➤

Juniors Brad Frum and P.J. Harper await the ballgame with sophomores Travis Workman and John Arbogast. ↑

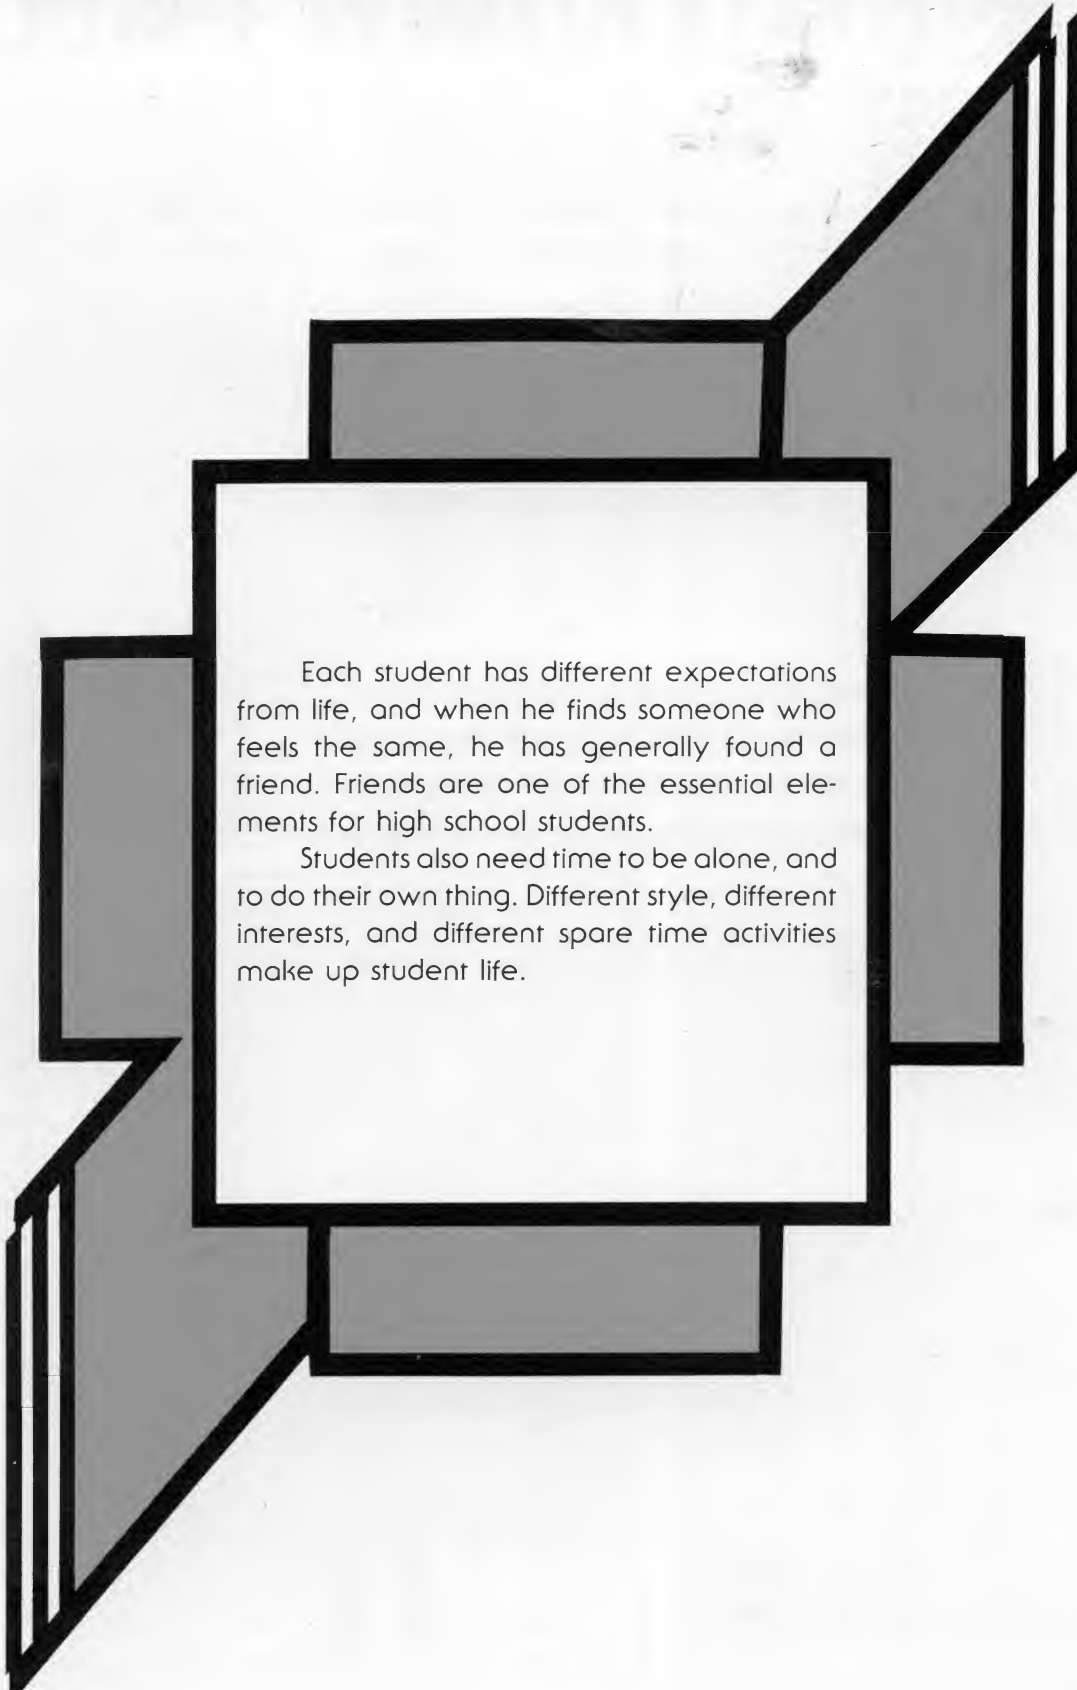

Senior Dave Coit and freshman Lindell Alderman cheer on their respective classes during powder-puff football game. ←

Jason Workman seems to be laughing at Randy Casteel's condition between classes. ←

STUDENT LIFE

Juniors Jenny Workman and Sheila Evans use their free time to have a serious conversation.

Each student has different expectations from life, and when he finds someone who feels the same, he has generally found a friend. Friends are one of the essential elements for high school students.

Students also need time to be alone, and to do their own thing. Different style, different interests, and different spare time activities make up student life.

DOWN FALL

Senior James Morgan and sophomore Steven Shearer are taking a rest from their classroom activities.↓

Forestry is one of two outdoor block classes. The Forestry I and Forestry II classes spend most of their time outside learning various things. Learning how to survey the land and cut trees are among the events learned. Forestry not only deals with trees, it also deals with soil conservation.

Each year the forestry classes hold a Field Day for members only. This event was held on the practice field on the morning of May 8. The Forestry I class was put up against the Forestry II class in various field events.

These events included such things as the axe throw, the tree chop, the cross cut, pulpwood ross, log roll, wood splitting, chainsaw cut, and the swinging log. Both forestry classes spent the morning competing in these events. Team members were dressed in jeans, camouflage hats, and Chippewa boots. This year the Forestry II class beat the Forestry I class by a mile. Next year we hope to see new winners.

Sophomore Joey Gragg shows us his skill on how to ride a log.↑

Junior Aceil Ryder estimates where this tree might fall.↑

Kenny Hill, senior, and John Paul Burks, junior, try to make the Crosscut winning time.↑

THE TALL TIMBER

Pictured here are the Forestry class. Row 1: Jeff Moore, John Paul Burks, Kenney Hill, Steve Hickman, Joey Gragg, Eric Gainer, Ronnie Friel, Steven Shearer, and Jamie Collins. Row 2: Tony McKenney, Brian Friel, Brooksie Barnett, Ronnie Roy, Roger Jackson, Aceil Ryder, Adam Jackson, Mike Kelley, Mike Tracy, John Ryder, James Morgan, Mr. Burns, and Mr. Zeigler. ↑

Pictured here are the Stare FFA Forestry team which includes: Mr. Cain, Mr. Burns, Kenney Hill, Jamie Collins, John Ryder, Mr. Bland, and the W.V. Forestry Representative. ↑

ophomore Adam Jackson tries hard to split his wood with speed and accuracy. ↑

T raci Alderman and Mike Buzzard are halfway to the finish line.➔

S eniors are showing their enthusiasm by cheering on their teams.↑↑

S enior Brian McClure shows his school spirit by dressing up as his favorite book character for Library Week.↑

S enior Stacey Workman shows her skills at spitting beans.←

Redneck Relays!

Jerry Diggs, Junior, is a lucky winner during the Library Week drawings. ↑

The annual Olympic-like games of Sadie Hawkins ended untraditionally this year; the overall winners were the juniors. Eventhough there was much competition and someone had to lose, all classes used discretion and enthusiasm to cheer on their participants.

Each class got to put their best athletes forward to participate in the various relays. Some of the relays were: neck and ball, life-saver, egg and spoon, and for those who can boogie backwards, the crab relay. The big challenge was the pie-eating contest; the participants had to eat a huge piece of pie as quickly as possible. Senior Karen Seabolt said, "My favorite contest is the egg and spoon relay because it causes so much tension."

As the afternoon was coming to an end, the tension got tighter and tighter, until the junior class got first place. As a reward, the class got to leave for the buses 5 minutes early for a week.

Another part of the day was for Library Week — the students were to dress as their favorite cartoon characters and compete for prizes. The judges gave out license plates, books, and other prizes to the various students that dressed. There were mountaineers, a redneck, hillbillies, and even a Bible character.

Sophomore Susan Goldizen looks like she enjoyed the pie-eating contest. ↑

Sophomore Rudy Gelis looks on in disbelief as he loses the pie-eating contest. ↙

The Warrior Sun!

Staff members of the Warrior Sun are busily working to meet their deadlines. ➔

The clicking of the cameras and catching the shots from every angle was the job of the photographers. They were there for all sporting events, club activities, and out-of-school happenings, never missing a shot.

Another class at PCHS is Literary Magazine. This small class produced a school newspaper every 3 months. The newspaper consisted of articles of events, special awards of students and teachers, poetry, games and puzzles, and book and movie reviews. Most of the articles and writings in the newspaper were supplied by the literary magazine class, but they also accepted articles from outside the class. Having the newspaper is a way of finding out about the events that occur throughout the school year.

Senior Karen Seabolt is ready for suggestions in the next issue of the "Warrior Sun." ⬆

The "one-eyed photographer," Jeanette Barron, shows her true self as junior Tammy Gordon looks on with a laugh. ⬆

Seniors Marcella Rexrode and Stacey Workman carefully study a Literary Magazine story for mistakes and grammatical errors. ➔

Is it Live? Or is it Kodak??

The Warrior Sun Staff consisted of Missy Duncan, Marcella Rexrode, Stacey Workman, Philippa Shafer, Karen Seabolt, Marsha Grimes, Nancy Coe, Kurt Behrens, Michelle Seabolt, and Ron Kelley.↑

Junior Tammy Gordon is looking for new ideas for her pictures.↑

Junior Shawn Northingham and Senior Doug White discuss a seemingly important topic during Literary Magazine class.↑

Staff photographers are Dianna Sheppard, Jeanette Barton, Tammy Gordon, and Jody Morgan. This group worked hard but also had fun.➡

Brave and Courageous the Warriors are Outrageous!

The excitement of Homecoming started off with the banner-making on Thursday, September 22, with the theme "Brave and Courageous, the Warriors are Outrageous." The judging was held on the following Wednesday. The banner results showed seniors and juniors tied for first place.

Wednesday started Spirit Week off with Hawaiian and Surfin' Day. Students were dressed in jamms and flowered shirts. The freshmen were the winners of the day for the dress competition. Thursday followed with Fifties Day. The girls were wearing scarves, skirts, and saddle-oxfords; the boys wore jeans and T-shirts. The overall winner for that day was the juniors. Spirit Week was concluded with Maroon and Gold Day on Friday. Once again, the juniors came through and took first place for dress competition.

The final, long-awaited day finally arrived — the day of the big game. Friday afternoon the senior class had the powder-puff football game. The seniors won the preliminary game against the freshmen; the juniors beat the sophomores, making the finals being the seniors against the juniors.

After the powder-puff game there was a pep-rally to get the team psyched up for the big game against West Preston. One special addition to the pep-rally was six of the female teachers showing what they were made of by going back to their high school years and doing a cheer for the student body.

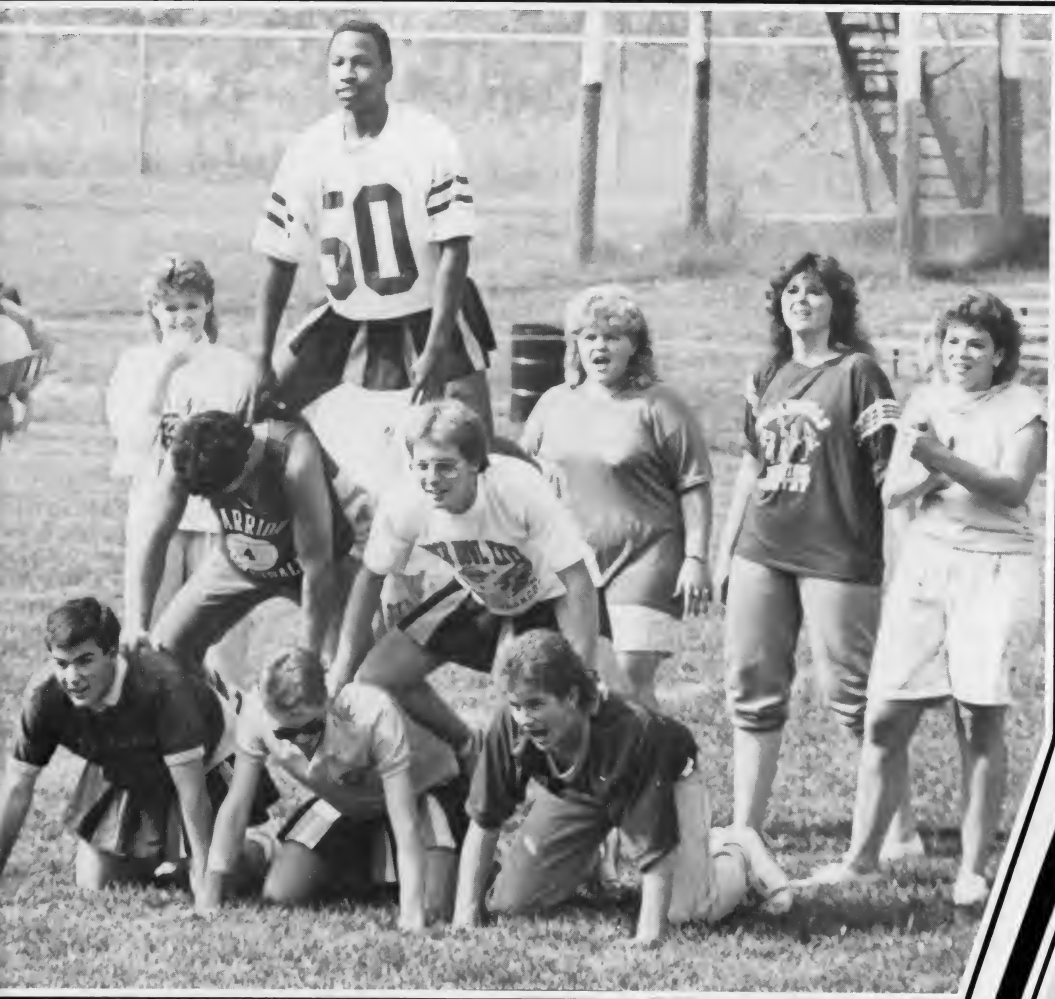

The overall Spirit Week winner was announced after the pep-rally; the juniors were the victors, with the seniors coming in second. Third and fourth places went to the freshmen and sophomores, respectively.

Brian Helmick, senior, finds out how the other half dresses as he cheers on his powder-puff team. ↑

Mrs. Flegel reminisces about the "good ole days" of the fifties. ↑

Shawn Nottingham, junior, shows his spirit on "Hawaiian and Surfin' Day." ↑

Kramer Arbogast, sophomore, and Angelena Wilfong, freshman, are on their way to a Luau. ↑

Senior powderpuff cheerleaders grab the spotlight with their pyramid, as members of the senior team take time out from the game. ←

Mrs. Linda Stewart dreams of being on the white beaches of Hawaii with Tom Selleck, but settles for doing the "hula" in her grass skirt on the white tiles of room 118. ↑

Melinda Mullenax and Stacy Coleman, juniors, stride down the hall in search of some fifties-style fun. ↑

The theme for the 1988 Homecoming was "Brave and Courageous, the Warriors are Outrageous." To raise the spirit of the football team, the student body participated in various activities and designed posters and banners. To help the varsity cheerleaders with finances, each class made a money jar. Each class put pennies in their own jars, and in other classes' jars they put silver coins to count against them. The cheerleaders made a total of $214.78, with the juniors having the most money.

The long-awaited game began at 7:30 p.m. on September 30, with the Warriors playing West Preston. At half-time the score was tied at 14, the Warriors having scored the first touchdown. During the half-time ceremonies the band played "You'll Never Walk Alone," and "This is My Country," as Jeanette Barton and Jesse Groseclose were crowned Queen and King. The other two queen candidates were Selina Clifton and Mary Kinder; candidates for King were Frankie Cassell and Tony Garretson. Class attendants and their escorts were: Dreama Anderson and Brian Helmick, seniors; Lori Matheny and George Goode, juniors, Cindi Burke and Mark Mospan, sophomores, and Rachel Irvine and Bo Casteel, freshmen.

The team was extremely aggressive when coming back onto the field, but, even with all their efforts, the final score was West Preston 26, the Warriors 14.

A Homecoming Dance was held after the game, with Steve VanReenan as D.J. Current high school students, along with alumni, danced to the current hits until 11:30 p.m. After all this, the students continued to carry on the theme, "Brave and Courageous, the Warriors are Outrageous."

Coach Wilburn is explaining the plan of attack for the second half of play. ↑

Jeanette Barton seems thrilled at being crowned Homecoming Queen. ↑

Members of the Homecoming Court converse with friends while waiting for the halftime activities. ↑

Jenny Workman seems to be surprised at what a West Preston cheerleader is telling her. ↑

Jason Armstrong, Randy Casteel, and Randy Buzzard seems to be very concerned about the ballgame. ←

Jeanette Barton appears to be in shock, after being crowned Homecoming Queen. ↑

This year's 1988-89 Homecoming court consists of freshmen - Rachel Irvine and Bo Casteel; juniors - Lori Matheny and George Goode; Queen candidate Mary Kinder, escorted by Tony Garretson; Queen and King, Jeanette Barton and Jesse Groseclose; Queen candidate Selina Clifton, escorted by Frankie Cassell; senior attendant Dreama Anderson, escorted by Brian Helmick; and sophomore attendants, Cindi Burke and Mark Mospan. ↑

What a stunning couple! Mary Kinder and Tony Garretson are candidates for Homecoming Queen and King. ↑

Here's the happy couple, Jeanette Barton and Jesse Groseclose, being crowned Homecoming Queen and King. ➤

Selina Clifton and Jesse Groseclose are Homecoming Queen and King candidates. ➤

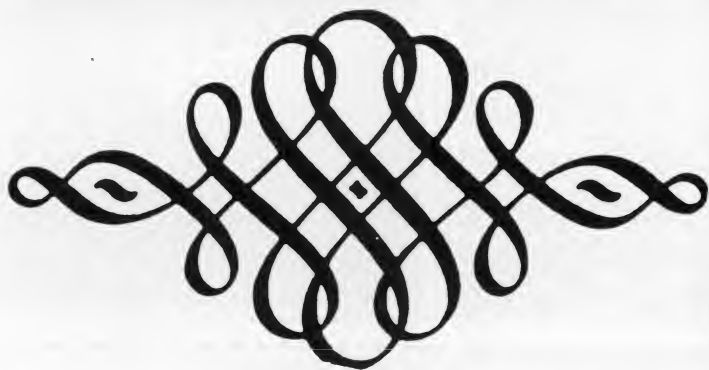

Show us your smiles! Jeanette Barton and Frankie Cassell are candidates for Homecoming Queen and King. ➤

Look at these two showing off their smiles. Dreama Anderson and Brian Helmick seem to enjoy representing their senior class. ←←

Representing the junior class are Lori Matheny and George Goode. ←

Cheerleaders Tina Palmer and Harriet Holly anxiously wait for the Warrior football team to run through the hoop. ↑

Representing the freshmen class are Rachel Irvine and Bo Casteel. ←

Representing the sophomore class are Cindi Burke and Mark Mospan. Doesn't he look proud! ←←

Careers for the Career Day, which was held on April 12, offered sophomores and juniors an opportunity to visit with members of the working business community to discuss possible future careers. Many individuals of the business community participated in the extremely productive afternoon of events. Students seemed to find the afternoon's activities enjoyable as well as most informative.

Awards Day, on May 24, was again an extreme success as PCHS students accepted the many awards given out by staff and outside award presenters. Senior class officers performed the duties of Masters of Ceremonies, as many recognition and money awards were presented to many deserving persons. A wide variety of awards from academic and vocational to sports and scholarships were presented to more than one hundred students at the morning's activities.

Juniors Pam Collins and Susan Shreve listen to the discussion about Graphics. ↓

Juniors, Ronnie Rexrode and Jeff Moore seem to have other things on their mind instead of Career Day. ↑

Brad Harper from Burns Motor Freight had a lot to tell P.C. Dean, Richard McCarty, Joey Bussard, and Joey Gragg about being a mechanic. ↑

Future

Soil conservation was what Shawn Nottingham and Greg Hively seemed very interested in, during their talk with Don Flegel.↑

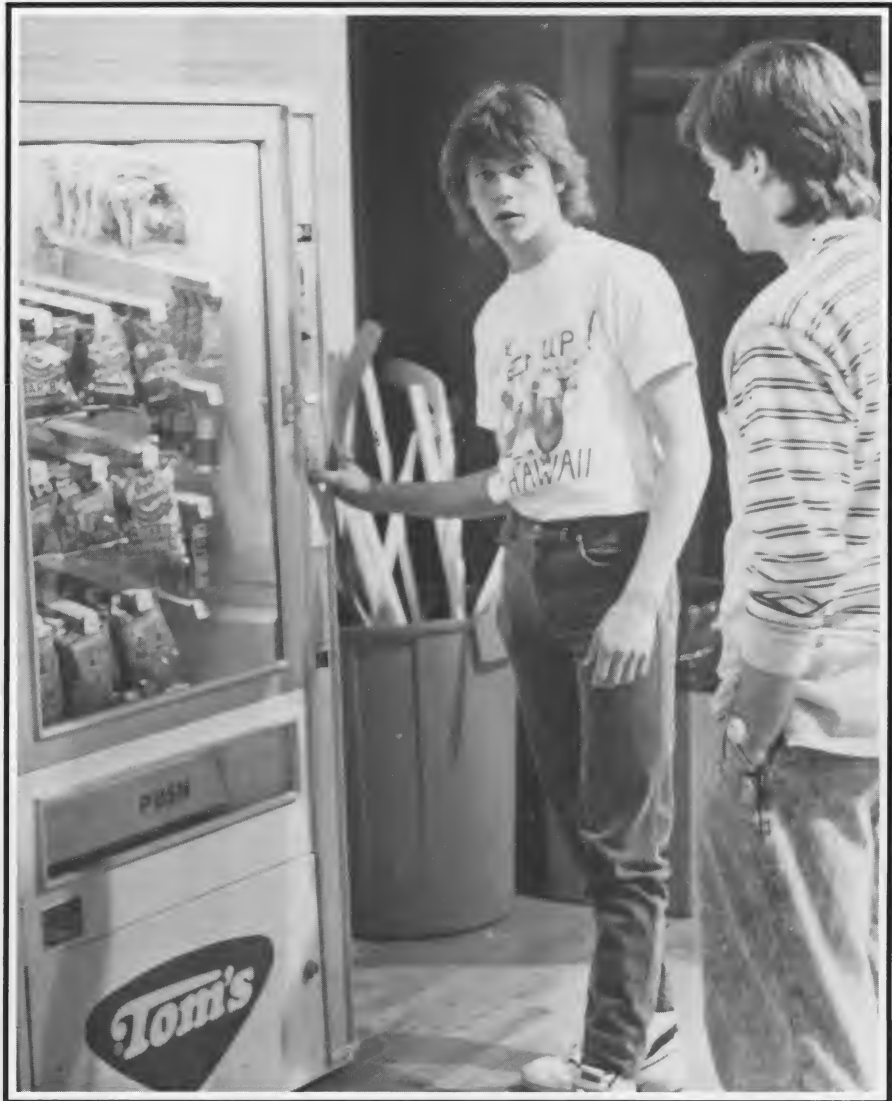

Mike Lane and Dave McClure sat quietly during Career Day.↑

Sophomores, John Rose and Loretta Mallow show great interest in their Career Day presenter.↑

Sophomore Eddie Brown looks serious as State Police Officer Baker talks about the responsibility of an officer of the law.↑

Lunch for juniors David Hise and Shawn Northingham seems to be just chips from the machine. ➡

Junior Curtis Murray seems amazed at the amount of food John Paul Burkes is able to consume during lunch. ➡

Freshman Richard McMillion doesn't act thrilled with his taco lunch, but junior Bret Carr has devoured his. ↑

When the lunch bell rings . . .

IT'S CHOW TIME!!

The one thing about school that everyone enjoys is lunch. Most everyone eats lunch, whether it is hot, cold, or from the concession stand. This year the journalism class took a survey to find out exactly what kind of lunches were being eaten and where.

Pizza seemed to be the favorite among the cafeteria eaters. Among the least favorite foods served in the cafeteria were chili and fish. One student commented, "The food really isn't bad, all they need to do now is give us more of it."

There are several students who prefer to "brown bag it." These students pack their lunches because it is cheaper than the $3.50 per week for full-priced lunches. The brown-baggers bring their favorite foods, such as sandwiches, chips, candy bars, and cookies.

It seems no one ever gets full eating lunch, so most of the students head for the concession stand or junk machine. Students then head for one of the many hangouts after lunch. Students can be found sitting in the hallways with friends, talking and laughing; they can be found sitting on the window sills, getting some fresh air; or in classrooms trying to catch up on some homework. But most students can be found in the gym after lunch. In only a half hour it seems that most everyone has had time to eat lunch and socialize with friends.

Senior Pam Grogg ponders over her spaghetti. ↑

Freshman Johnnie Beverage prepares to sit down, while senior Barbara Miller finishes her meal. ↑↑

Senior Bob Sumner and freshman Tina Madison look on in amazement while eating lunch. ←

Freshmen Dawn McLaughlin, Rachel Irvine, and Lori Martin seem to find something amusing while munching on chips from the concession stand. ↑

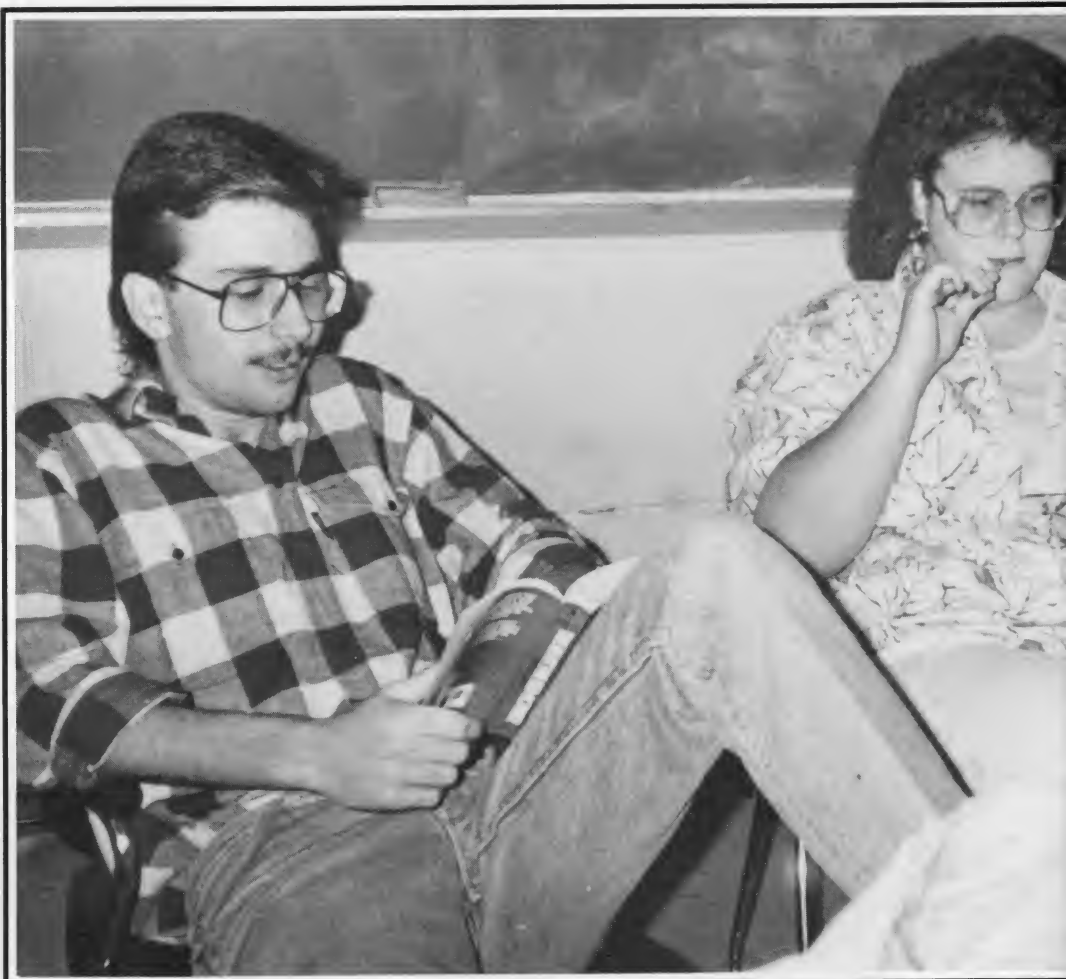

During the spare time that students have, there are various activities that they enjoy. The yearbook staff conducted a student-body survey about free-time, which showed some interesting results.

In their extra time many enjoy watching television. The top seven television shows were: Cosby Show, Growing Pains, Alf, Wise Guy, Hunter, MacGuyver, and Family Ties. The majority only watch one to five hours of television per week.

Another favorite past-time is listening to the radio. The top eight songs were: #1 - Love Bites, #2 - Groovy Kind of Love, #3 - Pour Some Sugar on Me, #4 - Red, Red Wine, #5 - Don't Worry, Be Happy, #6 - Hate Myself for Lovin' You, #7 - Every Rose Has Its Thorn and #8 - Is It Love?

Some of the students work during the week and on weekends. But many without jobs spend their weekends going out with their friends or family, mainly to the movies. The ten favorite movies were: Predator, St. Elmo's Fire, Top Gun, Commando, Dirty Dancing, Nightmare on Elm Street, The Lost Boys, Lethal Weapon, Over The Top, and Tour of Duty.

Eventhough it may be hard to find time to participate in extra-curricular activities because of school, homework, or jobs, most students make the time. Basically all students enjoy friendly gatherings to unwind from a hard week of school life.

Seniors, Scott Sanders and Beth Roach seem to enjoy studying during their free time. ↑↑

Seniors, Mary Kinder, Dreama Anderson, Patti McCarty, and Nancy Hefner dare anyone to try to get past them. ↑ out!

Freshman Bo Casteel and sophomore Travis Shinaberry discuss their plans for the weekend. ←

Freshman Lori Martin seems puzzled by something, as Randall Coleman tries to inquire. ↑

Senior Chantell Sheers discusses the day's events with senior Kevin Thompson. ↑

Sophomore Laura Layton takes time out from reading a yearbook to smile for the camera. ↑

Heather McGee, sophomore, cautiously opens her locker, afraid of what might be inside. ↑

Tina Palmer, sophomore, displays a new fashion by wearing a scarf around her neck. ➔

Charles Boggs relaxes against the stage as he talks to Jennifer Armstrong. ↓

Kelley Gordon, Heather McGee, and Missi Poage smile and show their fashion for the day. ➔

Looking sweet and fashionable in her pants suit is Jody Morgan. ↑

Sophomore Jeanette Canada takes a moment out from watching the football game to display her short pants and wild hair. ↑

Holes without the Wear!

History is repeating itself this year as students are wearing the "New Styles," but the funny thing about it is that these styles are what were "in" during the 50's.

A survey was distributed to the student body about fashion, and thanks to their participation the results were conclusive that the students are interested in today's fashion.

Some of the dominating styles were acid-wash clothes and Levis. Blue jeans over-ran dress clothes by 16%. Most students stated that they spent less than $200 on their school clothes and that they were "K-Mart Shoppers!"

"What clothes would you not be caught dead in?" was a popular question, and a majority answered "bell-bottoms." Hopefully they won't return.

Other styles that were new to the students were clothes with holes in them and short skirts for the girls. The "baggy look" is also here! When Brian Helmick was asked what his favorite styles were this year, he said, "I feel most comfortable and in style in my baggy Bugle Boy jeans and a cardigan sweater."

Looking thoroughly disgusted is Missi Poage as she spills it out to Lisa Foe. ↑

Displaying his Hard Rock T-shirt is Adrian Rawle. ↘

Displaying fashionable coats are Freshmen Rachel Irvine and Dana Cutlip. ←

Joking around with Scott Hayes is Freshman Becky Campbell. ←

Prom Prince and Princess are Philip Warren and Dawn Mortimer.↑

John Broyles being "his usual self"!↑

Mr. Vance stands proud beside this year's Prom King and Queen, Jesse Groves and Mary Kinder.↑

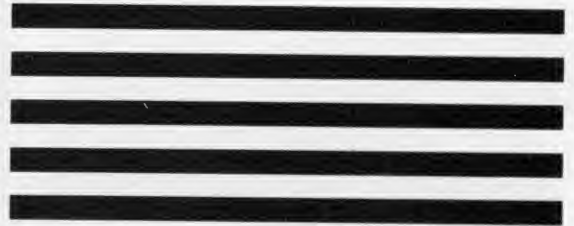

Seniors Bill Coughlin and Jennifer Akers are discussing the night's activities.↑

Randy Sharp, Teresa Doyle, Scott Sanders, Mary Kinder, Frankie Cassell, Dreama Anderson, Patti McCarty, and Nancy Hefner get together for a group picture prom night. ↘

Seniors Brian Beverage and Karen Seabolt share a priceless moment together. ↑

Jerry Nelson and Julie Murphy, juniors, are all smiles as they dance the night away. ←

Lisa Sharp, Jamie Collins, Mike Kelley, and Chris Baxter seem to be having an interesting conversation as they take a break from dancing. ↑

Heaven In

Juniors Pam Friel and Lisa Lane search their dates' jackets for the night's party favors. ➡

The long-awaited night of sparkle and glitter finally arrived, and the juniors' hard work shined through — Prom '89!

This year's prom had a new twist; it was on May 6, which was a Saturday. This gave students those extra hours needed to acquire that "look" for the prom.

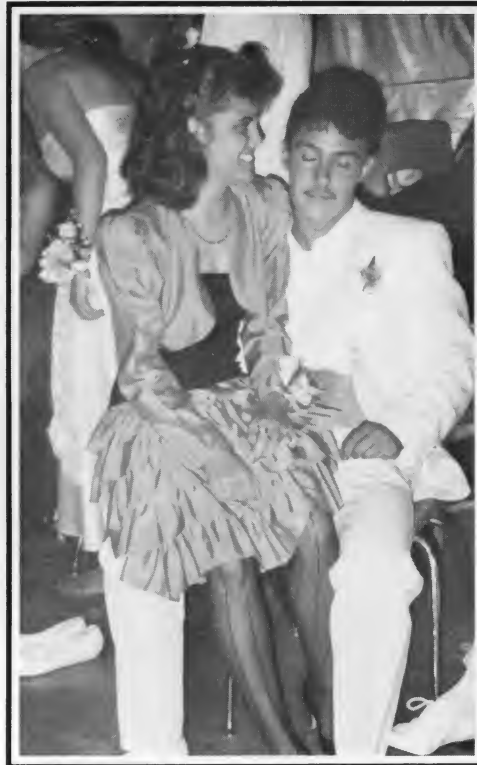

The theme "Heaven in Your Eyes" was matched with Emerald Green, Silver, and White. The juniors decorated with ballooned archways, an East Indian Archway, and fluffy-silver streamers.

For the Prom favors the junior class gave green and white garters and glass mugs. Shawn Nottingham, a junior who decorated all week, said, "I think since Prom was on Saturday, it was more enjoyable for all parties involved."

The junior class chose to have Prom King and Queen and Prince and Princess. Prince and Princess were juniors Phillip Warren and Dawn Mortimer. King and Queen were seniors Jesse Groseclose and Mary Kinder.

Senior Brian McClure dreams about what lies ahead, as he dances the night away with Mrs. McGee. ↑

Senior Tim Dean rests for a moment, as his date, sophomore Jody Morgan, is still going strong. ↑

Seniors Jesse Groseclose, and Jeanette Barron take a break from the evening's activities. ↑↑

Your Eyes!

Junior Laura Layton, sophomore Tina Grubb, freshman Dawn Rodriguez, and Senior Stacey Workman are looking for action. ↑

April Moore, Missy Duncan, and Kevin Halterman, Seniors, seem to be enjoying the evening's activities. ↑↑

Juniors Debbie Rose and Lisa Foe look on as P. J. Harper finds Jennifer Canada's conversation interesting. ↑

Senior Marcella Rexrode shares a moment with her husband between dances. ←

Junior Curtis Murray and freshman Jennifer Armstrong take a break from dancing to enjoy each other's company. ←

Getting Together!!

During the year various assemblies were held. The first of the programs was a performance by the West Virginia Dance Theater, consisting of various forms of dance.

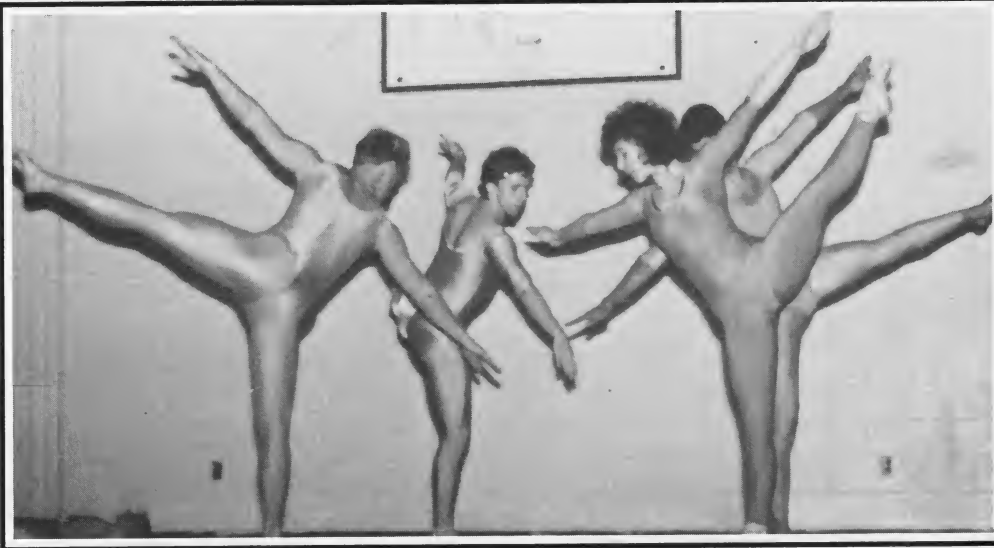

The second program was on drug abuse given by Mrs. Cheryl Cain of the First National Bank and Sheriff Jerry Dale. To motivate the students to participate in this program, prizes were given to the students for the best speech and essay. A second drug assembly was held, with Beverly VanReenan winning the speech contest and Matthew McKean the essay contest. The band and choir conducted two assemblies, the Christmas concert and a Spring concert.

We also had special visitors who conducted programs for individual classes: Mrs. Kay Gillispie, Elkins artist; Brenda Chancey, 4-H Exchange Student to Sweden, and Dr. Ken McCoy of D&E College, who aided sophomores on their career search.

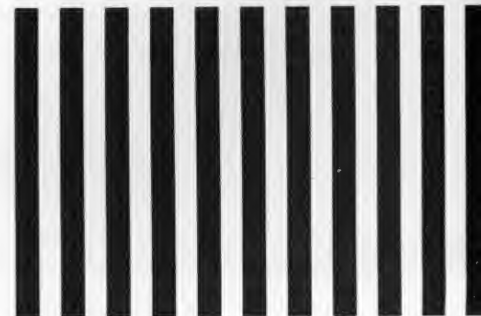

The West Virginia Dancers show style and beauty as they make a formation.↑

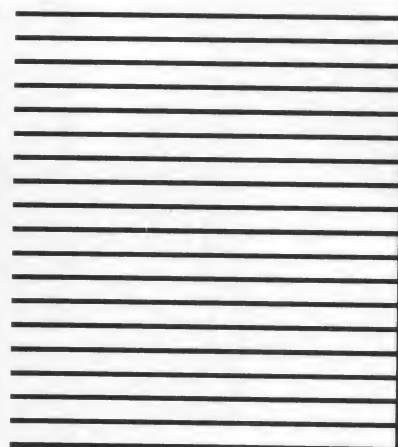

Cathy Trainer, senior, seems to be having a good time as she gives her speech on Alcohol and Drug Abuse.➡

Kay Gillispie, Elkins artist, shows students, Lori Matheny and Tammy Gordon how a painting is started.➡➡

Mrs. Keller helps prepare cookie dough for Brenda Chancey, who made Swedish cookies.↑

The sophomores listen to a career representative for help in choosing a career.↑↑

The band and the students try to uplift the girls basketball team's spirit for the upcoming game.↑

We were honored with a visit from the "Little People" during the Senior-Faculty ballgame.➔

Brenda Chancey, from Ripley, WV, was an IFYE who went to Sweden for six months and came by to share information about her trip.➔

ACADEMICS

The library is a nice quiet, place to study, as Lucinda Armstrong, freshman, proves.

There was little academic change during the 1988-89 school year. Two new classes roused the curiosity of some students, Marine Biology and Sociology, which were taught on TV by satellite.

There were some new teachers, who changed the scene a little: Mrs. Wiley, who replaced Mr. Friel as the Drivers Ed. teacher; Mr. Tupper, who taught math classes; and Mr. Lindsey, who taught Physical Science and American History.

The freshmen got into the basic routine of high school; the sophomores continued the tradition of dissecting frogs. The juniors struggled with essays and book reports, while the seniors worked to gain their final requirement, English.

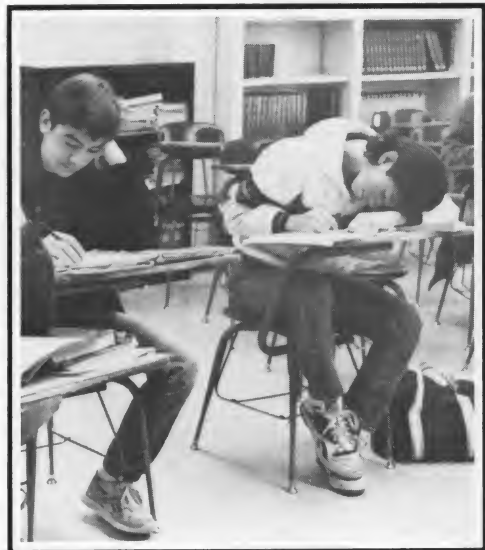

Punctuation and Recitation

In order to graduate, students must take four years of English in high school. English courses reach reading, writing, and comprehension skills that can be used "as is" or built upon through advanced English studies. Besides the core classes offered, there are some English electives, such as Literary Magazine, Shepherd College English, and Interpretive Speech.

Literary Magazine class took upon itself the task of producing a school newspaper, something that has not been done for a few years. "The Warrior Sun," the school newspaper, contained editorials, feature articles, and a section called "Dear Cornelia," where students with problems or difficulties could write in and get their questions answered. Mrs. Seielstad's Literary Magazine class should be commended for their hard, strenuous work.

While most seniors were taking regular or college-prep English classes, one class of seniors was taking a college English course offered through Shepherd College to high school students. An Interpretive Speech class was also offered through Shepherd College.

Most English classes worked on writing skills through essays and short stories, while some also studied American and British authors. The English department consists of Mr. Sheets, Mrs. Flegel, Mrs. Seielstad, Mrs. Leach, and Mr. Alderman.

Ben Ziegler and Michael Layne work toward achievement in English. ↑

Nancy Hefner and Rosella Beverage are discussing their assignment in the library. ↑

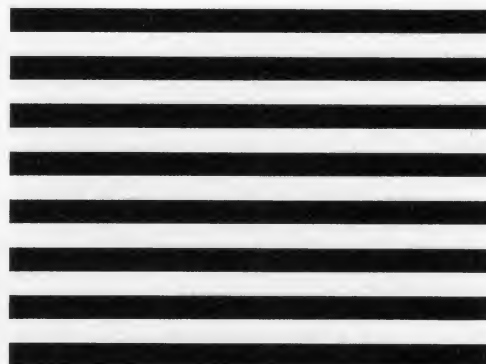

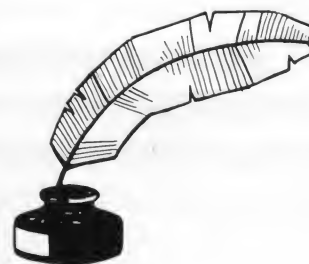

Amy Burks and Tina Reigel seem to be taking a short break from their work. ↑↑

Marsho Grimes and Missy Duncan work dilligently to get their work done. ↑

Debra Radcliff worked frantically to finish her assignment. ↑

Shane Alikakos seems to be "laid back" as he reads his World Cultures. ↑

Lisa Sharp is checking out a new assignment as she waits for the bell. ↑

Math + Science =

Science skills and concepts provide a fundamental background for students to use in other classes and life after high school. Mrs. Burns's physical science, chemistry, and physics classes endured many long, hard days of work, but they were encouraged by enjoyable projects and labs. Mrs. Sharpes' biology classes learned how and why they exist and what it takes to sustain life.

A special science class, Science Seminar, provided one group of students the opportunity to experiment and hypothesize about the theories and realities of plant and animal life. This class took a trip to Wallops Island, Virginia, to learn about different ecosystems, and they also learned how to "rough it out." When the nineteen students and four chaperones returned from their four-day trip, they all were smiling because they no longer reeked of "BUG SPRAY"!

The Mathematics Department enjoyed a most successful year with algebra, trigonometry, geometry, precalculus and general math classes being full to capacity.

Juniors Tom Moats, Tim Gordon, and Brad Frum appear all too interested in the experiment they're performing. ↑

At Wallops Island, Scott Sanders, Debra Radcliffe, and Rosella Beverage, seniors, filter sand through a sieve, trying to find worms. ↑

Senior Bill Coughlin, and junior P.J. Harper combine a seine net in search of the elusive bearded clam. ↑↑

Z Z Z z z z z z z z!

Nathan Gibson, sophomore, slyly looks up a general math answer, while Mr. Meadows' back is turned. ↑

Junior George Goode dumps mud into a sieve, while seniors Scott Sanders, Debra Radcliff, and Rosella Beverage watch for signs of life. ↑

Senior Jay Tibbs and junior P.J. Harper prepare to test seawater for salinity. ↑

Sheila Evans, junior, tries to explain her drastic situation to an attentive Mrs. McGee. ↑↑

Wheels and Economic Deals are within the reach of students

Students increased their knowledge behind the wheel and about affairs around the world this year. This was achieved through Driver's Education and the Social Studies department.

Freshmen students are required to learn about our country's past in American History. The next step is World Cultures; then the final year is Economics and Contemporary America.

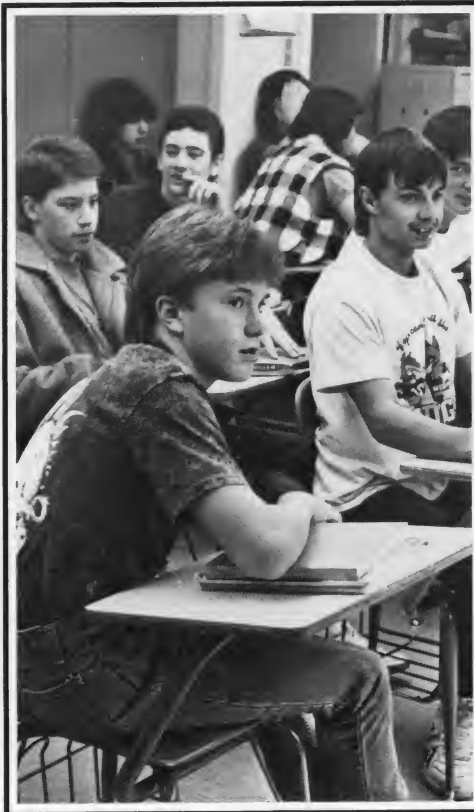

Students got to learn about the brain and its functions in Psychology, a new elective taught by Mr. Stewart. Mr. Lindsey joined the Social Studies staff, teaching American History and World Cultures.

Mrs. Wiley's Driver's Ed. classes were tested both on the road and in the classroom this year. Though the assignments seemed tedious at times, it was all for the better because they taught students to obey traffic laws.

Michael Taylor, freshman, seems unhappy about his new assignment. ➤

Freshmen Susan Grainer and Mark King are engrossed in their American History work. ↑

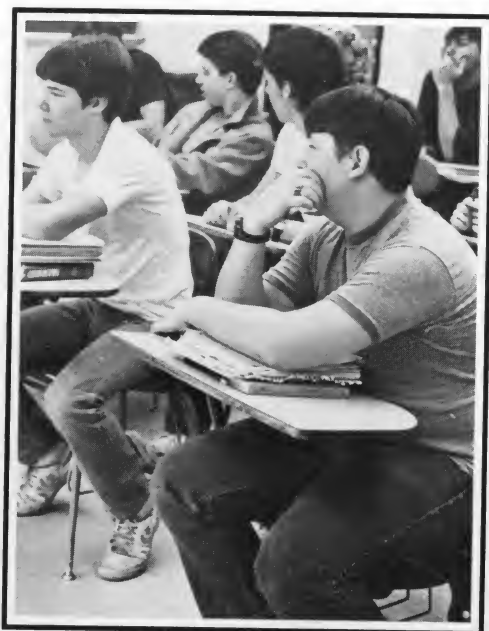

Juniors Brad Frum, Mike Lane, and Steve Hickman find a moment to relax in Driver's Ed. ↑

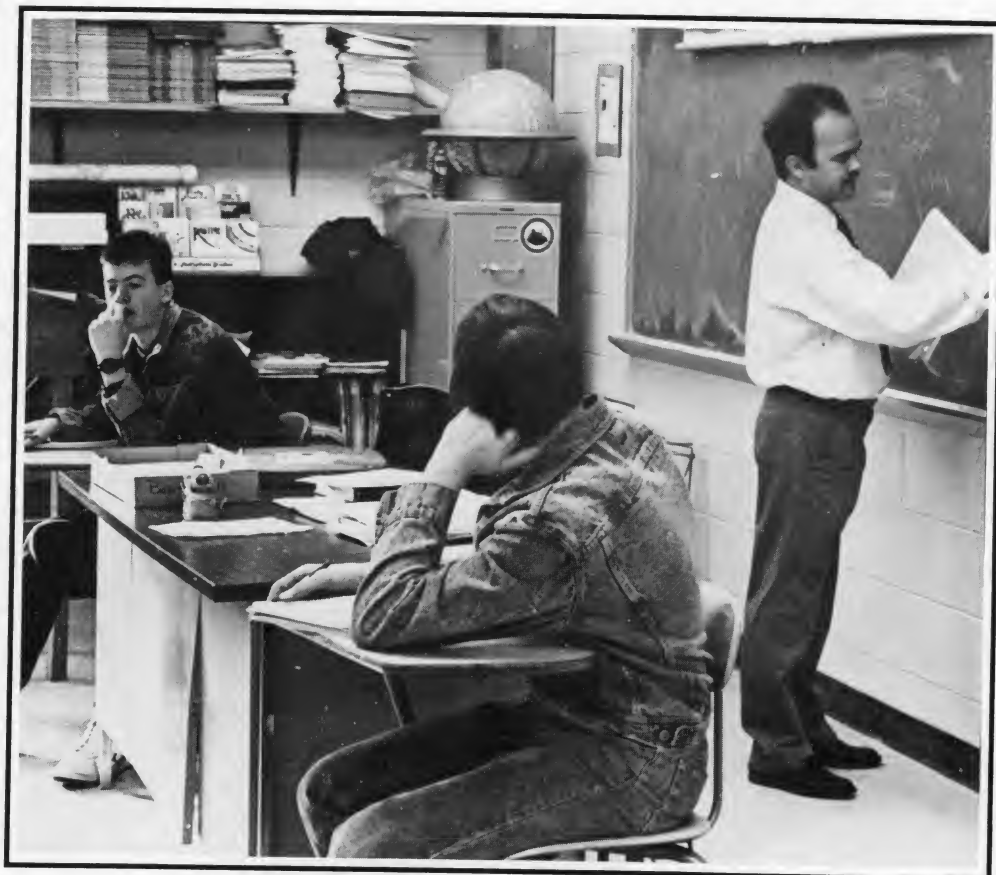

Look out! Jennifer Canada, junior, is getting ready to hit the road. ↑

You've got to be kidding!" is what Missi Poage, junior, seems to be telling Jennifer Canada and Martin Sharp, juniors. ↑

This Social Studies class must be very interesting to keep Brett Carr and Chris Friel, juniors, involved. ↑

American History is what Mr. Lindsey is trying to get into freshman Tim Coughlin's head. ↑

Art and Special Education Talents That Grow

Art is a means of expression for personal feelings or desire of objects. Basics through upper-level art skills are taught to students in hopes that one day a Rembrandt may call this his or her start.

Art students began with pencil and charcoal sketches. Watercolor painting was a big hit with the students, as various art students produced glamorous works that ended up becoming part of a splendid display in the cafeteria.

A selected group of art students actively carved sculptures out of wooden blocks during the many days in art class.

Special Education classes offer handicapped and learning-disabled students the opportunity to expand upon skills already learned in school. Many skills are developed which will be used in years to come at home and at work.

For the students' hard work in school, Special Education teachers Mr. Herold and Mrs. Taylor took the students to Snowshoe for an enjoyable day of skiing.

Senior Selina Clifton, surrounded by art supplies, intensely concentrates on a hard-to-open bottle of glue during art class. ↑

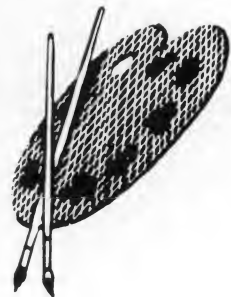

Karen Seabolt, senior, tries to decide which color should be used next in her watercolor masterpiece. ↑↑

Freshman Daniel Madison seems to be engulfed in his schoolwork. ↑

Mattie Scott, Senior, takes a second away from her art work to think of the upcoming day's events. ↑

Sophomore Loretta Mallow concentrates on her watercolor artwork. ←

Special Education teacher Tom Herold seems to find amusing what Tony Turbyfill is telling him. ↑

usan Goldizen, sophomore, doodles and daddles in her watercolor paints while time runs short. ↑↑

STUDY TIME . . .

Freshmen Angie Lovelace and Lisa M. Sharp were dressed as Dracula's wives for the haunted house sponsored by the French Club, as a fundraiser. ➡

Cultural enrichment was the main goal of the library and foreign language classes this year. This was accomplished through trips and special guest speakers.

The library kicked the year off with "A Week in the Arts". Throughout the week, students had the opportunity to speak with authors about everything from writing to publishing a book. Talks were also given by people who had visited such countries as France, Mexico, Greece, Australia, and the Carribean. The week concluded with an art show by Mrs. Leary.

Both foreign language classes planned for trips abroad this year. During Spring Break, the Spanish class returned to Mexico. While there they experienced a major metropolitan area in Mexico City, the scenic beauty of Guadalajara, and the warm temperatures and tropical waters of Puerto Vallarta.

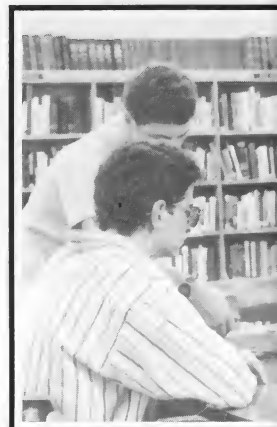

During the summer, the French class will return to Quebec. They will visit Montreal, Quebec City, and spend two nights with French-speaking families.

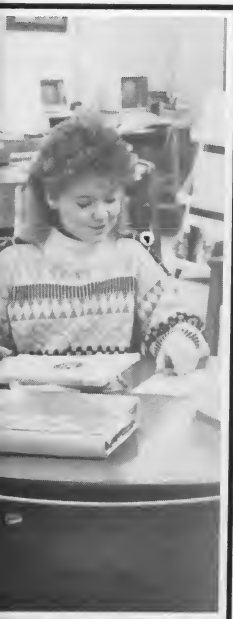

Dana Cutlip, freshman, is distracted as Mrs. Friel speaks with senior David Coir ↑

Dr. George Seielstad, director of the observatory, gives a speech on how to write a book, while a group of students listen intently. ↑

Ms. Blankenship and a group of students sort magazines for the library. ➡

FAR AND NEAR

The French Honor Society consists of sophomore Billy Carpenter, juniors Beverly Tracy, Donnelle Morris, Lisa Furr, sophomore Matthew McKean, junior Jenny Workman, senior Lisa Sharp, and junior Sharon Ray.↑↑

Aides to the librarian are: Jason Workman, Philippa Shafer, Starlena Holmes, Tammy Puffenbarger, Lisa Bennett, Julia Lambert, Robin Tinney, Debbie Rose, Laura Grimes, Mary Ann Galford, Missy Wingler, Jason Lane, Jimmy Grimes, Greg Hively, Lori Nelson, and Julie Murphy.↑

Going over homework in the library are seniors Rosella Beverage and Paul Barrett.←

HARD WORKERS

put it together in the end

"Deadlines! Deadlines! Meet those deadlines! Are the layouts finished? Have the pictures been sized? Where are the captions? Has anyone turned in any copy?" These were a few of the questions being asked as the yearbook deadlines moved closer. Until you've worked on the yearbook staff, you don't realize what goes into the making of each page. The fate of the yearbook was in the hands of only 12 individuals.

On October 5 a majority of the journalism class attended a workshop at the Charleston House Holiday Inn, sponsored by Walsworth Publishing Company. While there, the students learned a great many new things for "A Marchless Year."

Those students who attended participated in two classes each. The classes consisted of layout design, trends, copy writing, copy fitting, photography, and various other concepts.

The journalism class may draw the layouts for the yearbook, but the photographers are just as important. Without the photographers, there would be no pictures for the yearbook. It is their duty to obtain pictures of academic activities, sports, free time, faculty members, etc.

After all the pictures have been taken and sized, the captions and copy written, and all directions on the layout completed, then off to the company for processing.

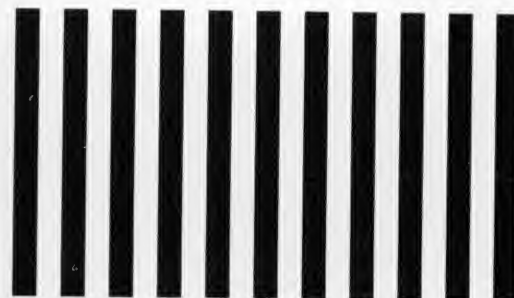

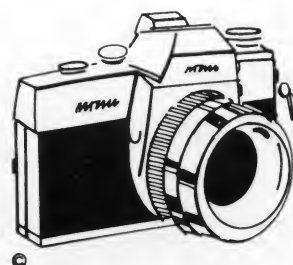

Nancy Hefner, senior, puts her writing skills to work in writing captions for a football layout. ↑

Senior Missy Duncan instructs sophomore Jody Morgan on the art of sizing pictures. ↑↑

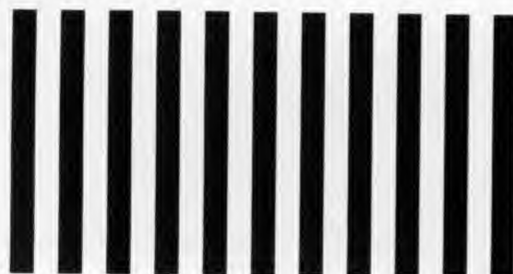

Jeanette Barton, senior, has a busy life. Between photography and being yearbook editor, it seems she always has her hands full. ↑↑

Senior Brian Helmick decided he needed a break from his busy schedule in writing yearbook copy. ↑

Marcella Rexrode, senior, is a very important part of the staff, because she is the "AD Lady." ↑

Without the diligent work of the Yearbook Staff, the yearbook would be an impossibility. The staff consists of Jeanette Barton, Jody Morgan, Nancy Hefner, Teresa Doyle, Missy Duncan, Mrs. Teresa Rhea, Brian Helmick, Shawn Nottingham, Parti McCarty, and Lucinda Hanna. Not pictured are Chantrell Sheets and Marcella Rexrode. ↑↑

Chantrell Sheets, senior, hastily finished a layout to meet the deadline. ↑

Preparing for

As our country moves into the twenty-first century, computers and business classes play an even larger role in the high school education than in past years.

Comal, Pascal, and Graphics were offered by Dr. Leary as Computer Science courses. Students keyboarded away, while learning skills for their futures.

Typing I and Typing II introduced the student to the typewriter and concentrated on letter-writing skills. Word processing allowed the student to apply previous skills in producing business communications on the computer.

Accounting I and II provided the basics of book-keeping, while Clerical Block further developed typing and office skills. In General Business the learner was introduced to the United States system of conducting business.

This was the last year for one of the business department's teachers, Miss Dean, due to retirement. Miss Dean, a graduate of Marshall University with a B.A. in Business Education, taught typing and accounting. Miss Dean had a total of thirty-five years as a teacher, eighteen being at P.C.H.S. According to Miss Dean, "It hasn't been without frustration, but it has been satisfying."

Lisa Sharp and Nancy Hefner, seniors, are working to get to the end of their accounting, as David Broce and Tom Moats are asking questions. ➡

Lori Nelson and Naomia Gibson, juniors, are working to get their letters printed in word processing. ➡

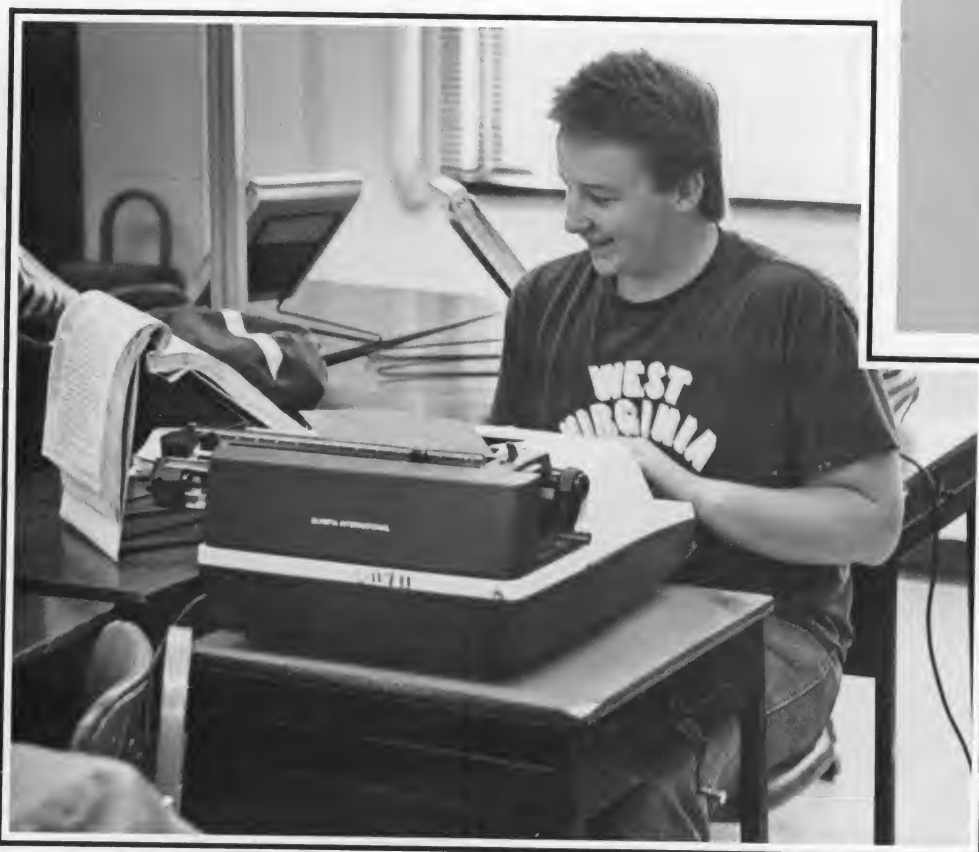

Laura Layton, junior, is pushing to get through her computer work. ↑

Juniors Lisa Furr, Randy Buzzard, Chris Tenney, Stacy Coleman, and Kurt Behrens, freshman Damian Elliot, and sophomore Jeanette Canada appear to be terribly interested in computer class. ↑

the Future

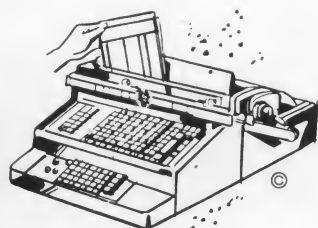

Tom Moats, junior, is examining the screen to see what to do next in computer class. ⬅

Tom Crickenberger, sophomore, is mastering his skills in Typing I. ⬆

Robert Alkire, junior, and Jay Tibbs, senior, are pushing keys in word processing to get the job done. ⬆

Michelle Hiner and Regina Mullenox are discussing their accounting work. ⬆

We're Here to Pump You Up

Working your body to the fullest potential until you're ready to drop, building muscles on top of muscles, and weights clanging together is what weightlifting is all about. Willing to work to the extremes, to be strong, and look great are the goals of each weightlifting student.

Lifting weights has been slightly easier this year with the accommodation of our new field house, which has a very large weight room with new, modern weights. Some of the new weight benches are military lift, lats, sit-up bench, and a new bench press. Coach Mike Wilburn loves hearing those weights clanging together — it is music to his ears!

The P.E. classes are working on many different sports, such as: gymnastics, soccer, football, volleyball, hockey, lacrosse, basketball, and softball. The freshman P.E. classes also have a gun safety class, which lasts for one week and teaches the students proper handling and care of firearms at home and in the woods.

Coach Hought gives some pointers to his P.E. students. ➡

Rachel Broyles and Susan McKenney learn basketball basics in freshman P.E. ➡

Richard Hill is eager to play basketball. ⬆

Richard McMillion, Kim Ryder, and Becky Campbell are eagerly participating in freshman P.E. ➡

Missy Duncan is using all her power to lift weights as Darin McKenney stands by with moral support. ←

A big part of weightlifting is building up your muscles by gradually increasing the weight you lift, as demonstrated by senior Mike Buzzard. ↑

Basketball drills are an important part of the game, as shown here by Lyn Lewis, freshman. ↑

Coach Haught looks worried as he watches Chawn Loudermilk and John Berry play offense in basketball. ↑

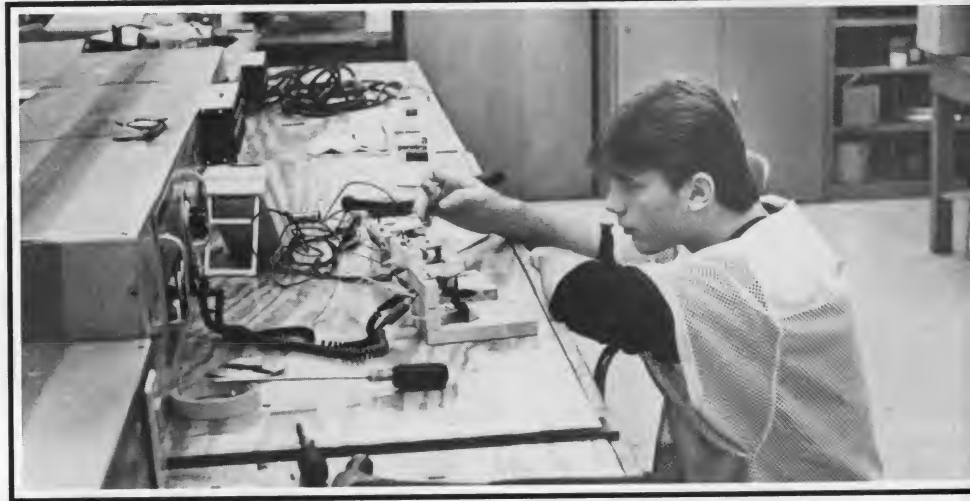

Try the Switch!

Mr. Beverage discusses the basics of electronics with senior Lori Terry and junior Jennifer Canada. ➔

Electricity and Electronics are two of the many offerings of the Vocational Department. Introduction to Electricity and Introduction to Electronics allowed students the chance to familiarize themselves with each course.

In Electricity I, skills from simple circuits to completely wiring a house are learned and practiced. In Electronics I, students learn electronic terminology, how to apply those terms, and operation of electronic equipment. Upon completion of Electricity I, students can take a certification exam to become an electrician.

Second year Electricity students can take Electricity II, where skills learned in Electricity I are built upon. Electronics II offers students the opportunity to design, layout, and build projects. Electricity II students are given the opportunity to practice their skills on tasks that arise around the school.

Studying electronic circuits is senior Danny Carpenter. ↑

Electronics instructor Mr. Beverage is showing senior Bob Sumner the proper way to connect a circuit. ↑

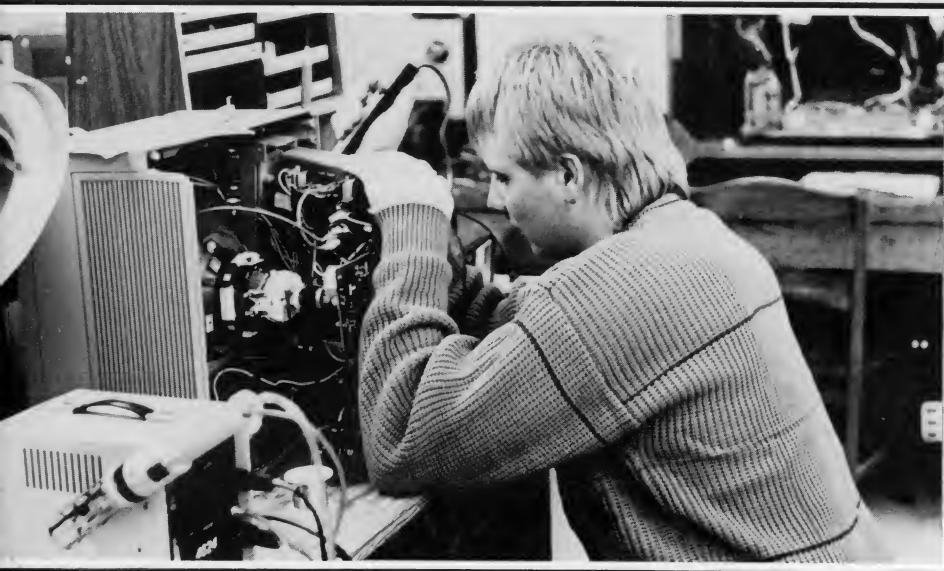

Dennis VanReenen, senior, concentrates on work, while Jason Workman, senior, takes a moment to think of his next step. ↑

C. Dean, sophomore, practices his skills on wiring a light socket.↓

M. R. Ziegler shows sophomore Nathan Gibson and senior Willie Mullenax the ins and outs of electricity.↓

Senior Mark Reynolds intensely concentrates on poking something with his screwdriver.↑

Seniors Monte Friel and John Hannah seem to be hoping that seniors Danny Carpentar and Ryan Pritt will get back to work soon.↑

Juniors Todd Gay and Dave McClure seem amused at senior K. G. Underwood's attempt to blow up some electronic equipment.↘

Senior Frankie Cassell shows skill and precision in working on this piece of electronic equipment.←

"On-The-Job Training"

Two of the more popular vocational classes this year proved to be Vocational Agriculture and Welding, both of which provide valuable experiences that can be used later in life.

Welding students learned the many different techniques in welding. They then took what they had learned and used it to build anything and everything conceivable.

Vocational Agriculture classes can boast an excellent year this year. Early this fall, VoAg classes began assembling their teams for the state Vocational Agriculture competition at West Virginia University. Their many hours of hard work and practice proved fruitful; the Pocahontas County FFA chapter came away with the covered Sweepstakes title and the right to call themselves the best FFA chapter in West Virginia.

Building different objects is a big part of VoAg. ↑

(From Top) The Welding class, David Kincaid, Edgar Friel, Scott Pennington, Phillip Warren, David Hise, Barbara Miller, John Bennett, Curtis Murray, Eric Perkins, John Clutter, Rick Lambert, Tim Dean, K. G. Underwood, Brett Carr, Dan Bennett, Terry Sheets, Tim Morrimer, Johnnie Beverage, Garland Wilfong, and Bill Baxter, along with their proud instructor, Mr. Thompson, display the $2,000 rank they built for Frederick County. ↑↑

Rick Lambert and Curtis Murray, juniors, seem to be getting ready to get to work in welding class. ↑

Doug Davis and John Bennett, freshmen, Edgar Friel and Curtis Murray, juniors, are making headway with their work in welding. ➤

Teamwork gets a big welding project completed. ➡

Travis Workman, sophomore, and Randy Buzzard, junior, are having some trouble with their VoAg project. ←

John Rose, sophomore, is working the time away in the shop. ←

Tim Nicely tries to come up with an easier way to do things, while Lewis Arbogast and John Shinaberry stand by. ↓

Home and Health

Taking care of yourself . . .

One of the more advanced vocational classes at P.C.H.S. is Nursing. This course deals with basic health care. The students are taught how to care for patients properly. The Nursing I class does mostly classwork. They are taught how to take blood pressure, read various instruments, and use medical terminology. The nursing II students are getting hands-on experience at Pocahontas Continuous Care Center. Four days a week the nursing students travel to Marlinton to work at the nursing home. There they are getting training in this field that could one day be their profession.

The Home Economics Department consists of many different courses, taught by Mrs. Linda VanReenen. Food and Nutrition, Housing, Interior Design, Consumer Education, and STEPS (Surviving Today's Experiences and Problems Successfully), are a few of the courses that are offered. Each class offers the students an opportunity to learn more about how to prepare a home.

This year Home Economics classes have formed an in-class FHA chapter. Representatives were selected from each class; these students met on B week during clubs, to discuss club matters. Officers were elected from these representatives. The representative from each class then reported back on what had occurred at the executive meetings.

Juniors Lori Matheny and Tina Shearer carry on a conversation while trying to complete a shirt for sewing class. ➤

Working vigorously on her sewing is junior Angie Stanley. ➡➡

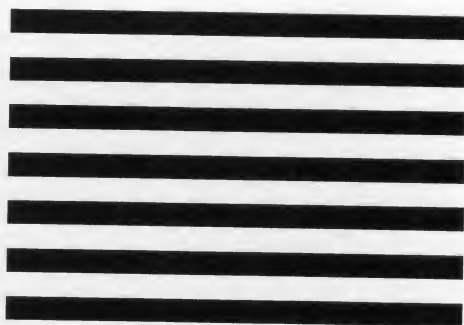

Junior Tina Shearer gives her sewing pattern a final look before starting work on it. ↑

Senior Debra Radcliff and junior Jenny Workman volunteer their services so that freshman Candy Snead and junior Leslie Wilfong can learn to operate the blood pressure cuff. ◀

Senior Jimmy Grimes cleans the oven drawer to make sure everything is clean for the Christmas Tea, given by FHA. ↑

Looking up terms is Michelle Seabolt as she prepares for a test. ↑↑

Pretending to be injured is junior Susan Shreve, while sophomore Katie McGreal nurses her wounds. ↑

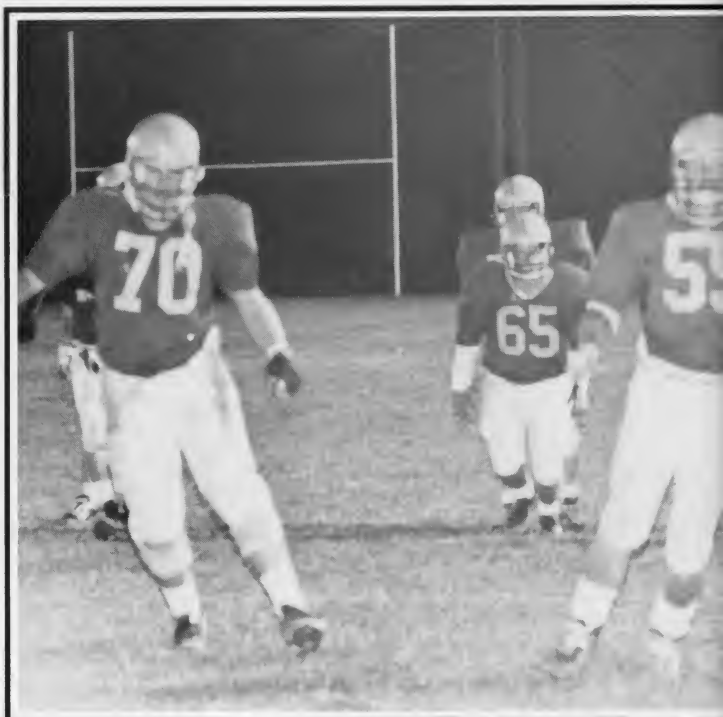

S P O R T S

Senior, Kevin Halterman, seems to be having a ball. He's determined as he prepares to throw the shot put.

For those who pushed it to the limit. For those who had the strength to meet the challenge.

West Preston takes down Danny Carpenter as he tries for a touchdown. ↑↑

Jason Armstrong defends his team by blocking an opposing team rush. ↑

Hands on hips is Coach Haught as he watches with concern. ➤

The Warriors show their stuff, as it takes four opposing players to take down one Warrior. ➔

"Git'er, boys, git 'er"

August greeted the Warrior football team with record temperatures created by one of the worst droughts in recent history. Despite the scorching ninety-degree temperatures, the PCHS team strived to better themselves by practicing twice a day essentially losing a month of summer vacation. Finally, with the end of the grueling August practices came the Warrior football team's first game, a scrimmage against the Union Red Devils. The game was won by the Warriors, seven to six. Unfortunately this was to be the varsity football team's only win.

The beginning of the regular season was marked by disappointment and a driving spirit among the players to better themselves. As the season progressed, the Warrior football team did indeed better themselves. By mid-season, despite rain and freezing temperatures, the varsity football team lost the following games by small margins. They were in a deadlock with both Petersburg and West Preston for several minutes of play, and the game against Tygarts Valley wasn't lost until the final few minutes when Tygarts Valley returned a punt for the winning touchdown.

In the last game of the season, on Senior Night, the varsity team put up probably its most valiant effort, against the Greenbrier West Cavaliers. Even though the Greenbrier West team lead the Warrior football team by more than twenty points, PCHS battled to within six points of the Cavaliers. Danny Carpenter ran for over a hundred yards, and 40 percent of the team's passes were completed.

All in all, the season should be considered a growing year. With a large number of returning underclassmen, the PCHS football team should be back strong next year.

Some may blame the team's losing record on a lack of dedication. This is in no way the case. This year's players and coaches put in approximately two hundred forty hours. In many cases, playing football meant putting in a twelve-hour day as well as doing homework. They withstood biting cold and searing heat; and they ran for about one hundred miles. That is true dedication to an activity.

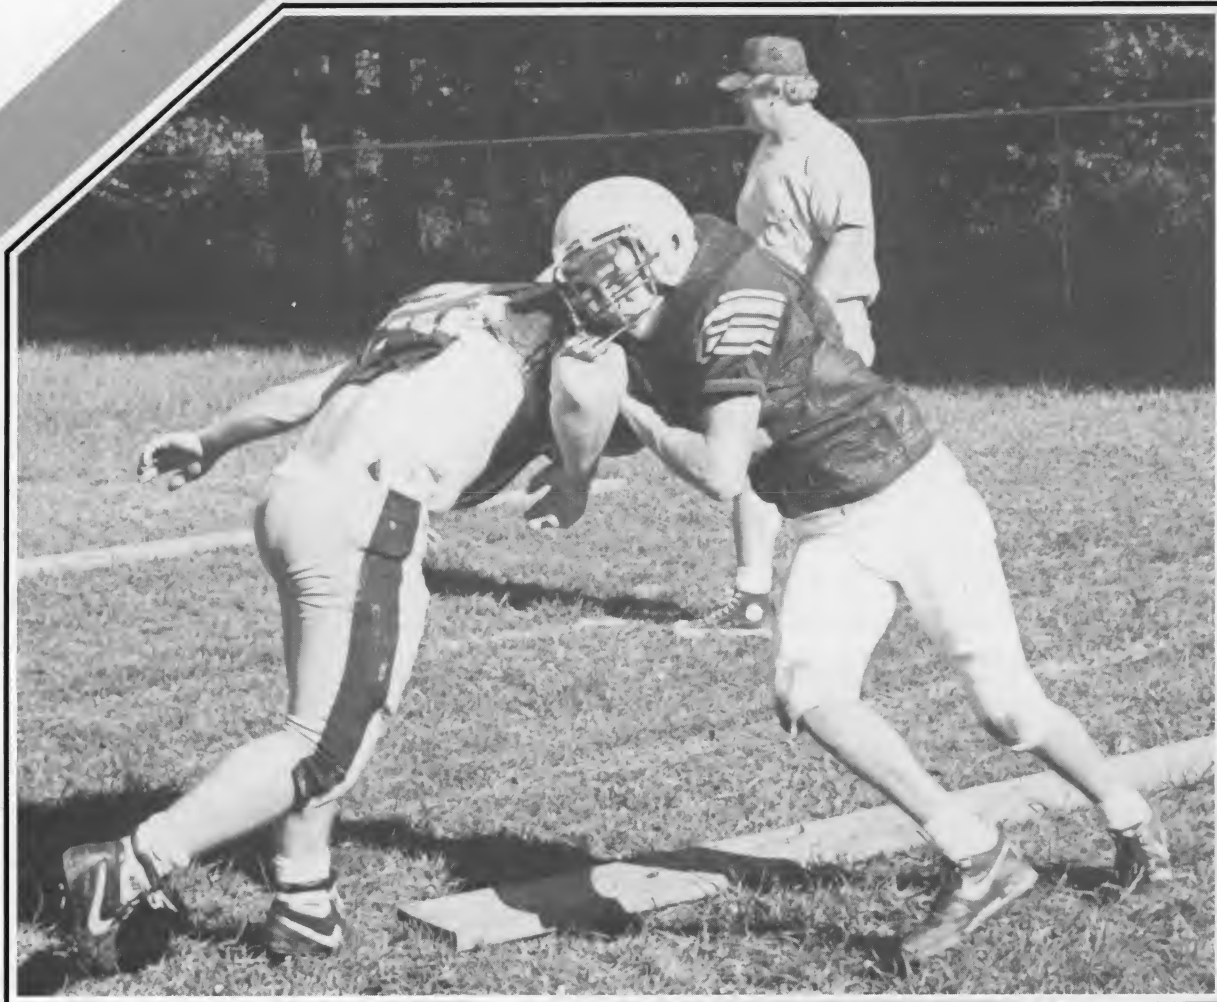

Several changes came about this year as well. Mr. Tom Herold joined Mr. Mike Wilburn, Mr. Bob Sheets, and Mr. Jeff Haight on the Warrior coaching staff. The varsity team received new cardinal game jerseys and shiny new white pants. The new fieldhouse was put to great use this year also. The facility includes home and visitor's team rooms, a weight room, a concession stand, and public restrooms.

Warm-up before a game can be exasperating. ←

The Pocahontas Warriors: fourth row — Assistant Coaches, Bob Sheets, Tom Herold, and Jeff Haight; Head Coach, Mike Wilburn. From left to right in the third row are Randy Casteel, Kevin Halterman, Ron Kelley, K.G. Underwood, Chris Tenney, Danny Carpenter, Scott Hayes, Tim Gordon, David Peacock, Randy Buzzard, Chris Alikakos, and Donald Currence. The second row consists of Tom Crickenberger, Shawn Nottingham, Ronnie Rexrode, Stacy McClure, Donald Greathouse, Shannon Arbogast, Greg Hively, Michael Taylor, Chuck Arbogast, Mathew Taylor, Nathan Gibson, and Shawn Bosley - manager. First row: Brian McClure, Matt Workman, Jason Armstrong, Randall Coleman, Joey Gragg, Jason Workman, Mike Buzzard, Kenney Hill, Mark King, and Michael Wolfe. ←

Face to face, both teams prepare for the showdown. ←

Matthew Taylor rushes his teammate as Coach Herold looks on. ↑

Matthew Workman watches his team from the sidelines, hoping to get back in the action. ↑

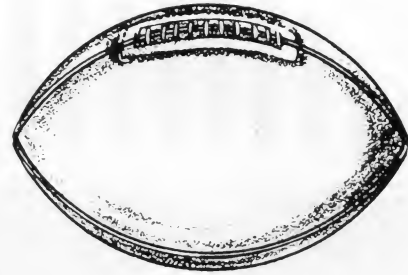

As a speeding football comes toward Mark King, he takes a little leap to catch it. ↑

Carrying equipment into the dressing room is Ronnie Rexrode, as he gets ready for a game. →

"Put a hat on 'em!" — Coach Wilburn

PCHS	6	Nicholas	42
PCHS	7	Hinton	28
PCHS	6	Tucker	26
PCHS	13	Richwood	22
PCHS	14	West Preston	26
PCHS	14	Petersburg	28
PCHS	14	Tygarts Valley	18
PCHS	8	Independence	27
PCHS	7	Webster	20
PCHS	30	Greenbrier West	55

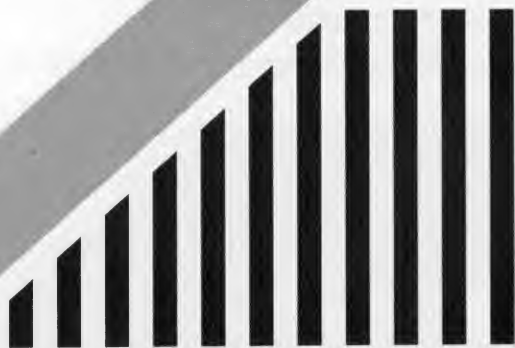

Waiting anxiously on the sidelines to play are Jason Armstrong, Randy Casteel, and Randy Buzard. ←←

Tim Gordon stands watching after he reeled the football to another team member. ←

David Peacock is getting ready for a take-off!! ←←

Marhew Taylor prepares to take down a West Preston runner at the Homecoming game. ↑

Jumping high is freshman Dawn McLaughlin's strategy against one Elkins player. ↑

Keeping stats for the game is Missy Poage, junior. ➔

Coach Shupe covers final instructions as the Lady Warriors prepare for battle. ➤

Sometimes the girls need a little readjustment, so Coach Sue Shupe is always there for them. ➔

Swish!

The Lady Warriors, by way of many hours of strenuous, hard work, had an extremely productive season. They fought through injuries and long hours enroute to a 6 and 14 regular season record, but dropped all three post season games. The season saw many highlights by Pocahontas players.

For the varsity squad, April Moore averaged 18 points and 17 rebounds, both team highs, despite a late season leg injury which kept her out of six ballgames. Although April Moore averaged more points per game, Teresa Mick lead the team in total scoring by rallying 254 points throughout the full 20-game regular season. Kelley Gordon and Missy Poage both also played very important roles for the varsity squad.

Circleville's Cristy Cooper rolled into Pocahontas County one night in September and posted an impressive 85-point scoring performance in a 107 to 68 Circleville victory. Cooper's 85 points set a one-game West Virginia high school girls' basketball scoring record, which is sure to stand for quite a few years.

Kelley Gordon made Section 4 Region 2 all-tournament honors during post-season play.

The junior varsity squad posted a winning 6 and 4 record, deploring a balanced, well-rounded attack. Kristi Miller and Dawn McLoughlin lead the JV attack by averaging 9 and 8 points, respectively. On the rebounding end of the game, again Kristi Miller lead the JV squad by pulling down an average of 10 rebounds per game, followed by Missy Poage with 9.

The girls' basketball program, by combination of records, ended up with a 12 and 21 record. Head coach, Mrs. Sue Shupe, and assistant coach, Mr. Lindsey, believed the season was still a success, despite the losing record.

Posting up underneath the basket, April Moore, senior, waits for a pass from Missy Poage, junior. ←←

Teresa Mick, sophomore, concentrates on her foul shot. ←

Fans of the Lady Warriors enjoy the game and their friends' company. ↑

Lori Matheny, junior, stands guard on defense against her opponent. ↑↑

The Lady Warrior basketball team was comprised of Debbie Rose, Janell Turner, Dawn McLaughlin, Heather McGee, Kelley Gordon, Head Coach Mrs. Shupe, Teresa Mick, Missy Jordan, Leslie Sheers, Tammy Gordon, Coach Mr. Lindsey. (Front row) Katie McGreal, Lori Matheny, Pam Grogg, April Moore, April Boyce, Missi Poage, and Kristi Miller. ↑

Teresa Mick, junior, and Pam Grogg, senior, are on the warpath trying to score for the team. ↑

WE WANT TWO!

P.C.H.S.	42	Nicholas	45	P.C.H.S.	48	Greenbrier East	75
P.C.H.S.	34	Greenbrier East	71	P.C.H.S.	80	Tygarts Valley	42
P.C.H.S.	48	Webster	49	P.C.H.S.	69	Coalton	64
P.C.H.S.	48	Tucker	57	P.C.H.S.	59	Coalton	56
P.C.H.S.	42	Franklin	46	P.C.H.S.	47	Richwood	60
P.C.H.S.	68	Circleville	107	P.C.H.S.	54	Tucker	69
P.C.H.S.	49	Richwood	50	P.C.H.S.	62	Franklin	45
P.C.H.S.	39	Greenbrier West	47	P.C.H.S.	81	Tygarts Valley	30
P.C.H.S.	47	Nicholas	42	P.C.H.S.	34	Greenbrier West	54
P.C.H.S.	47	Circleville	107	P.C.H.S.	36	Webster	42

The Lady Warriors play strong defense against Tucker County. ←

Senior April Moore is concentrating on making a basket, while April Boyce, junior, waits for the rebound. ←

Juniors Jenny Workman and April Boyce are showing their school spirit at a pep rally for girls tournaments. ↑

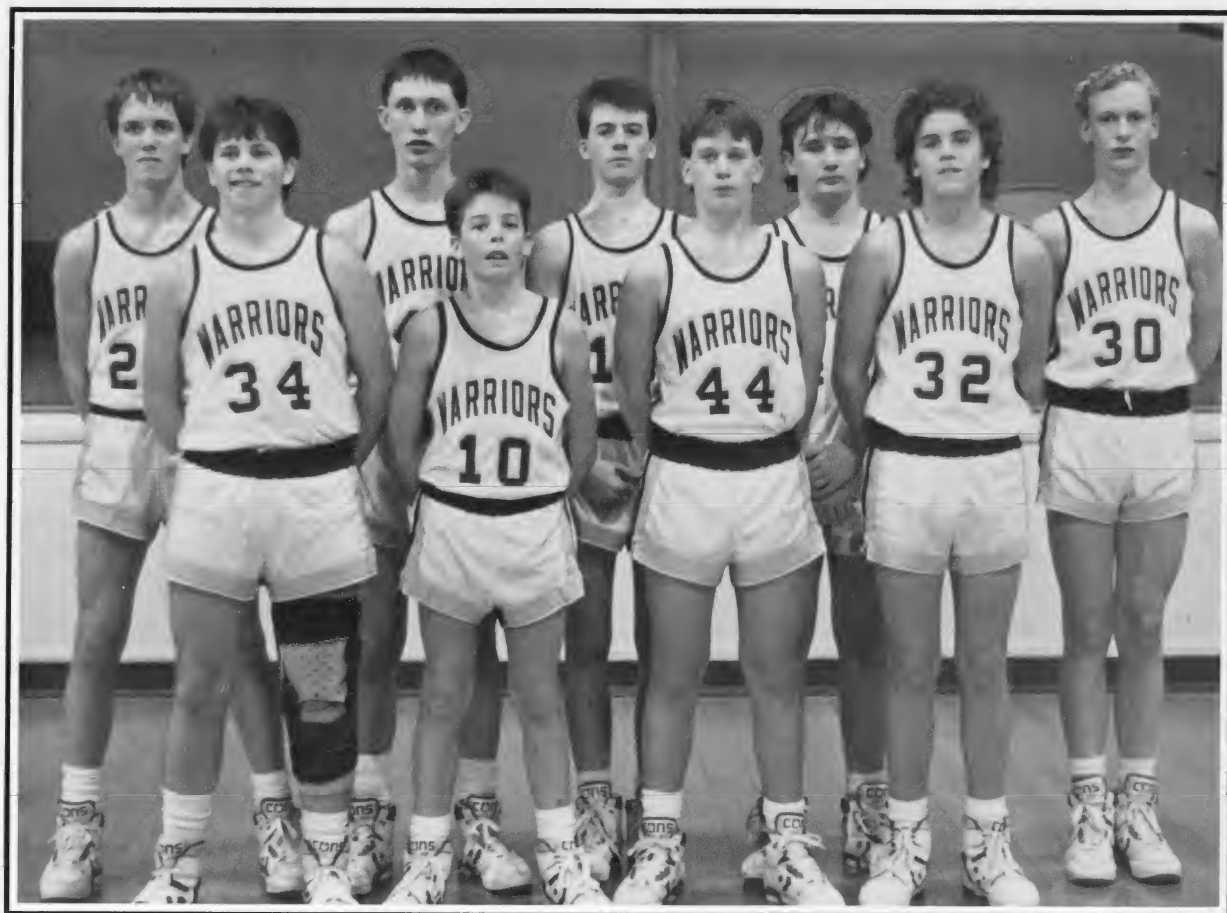

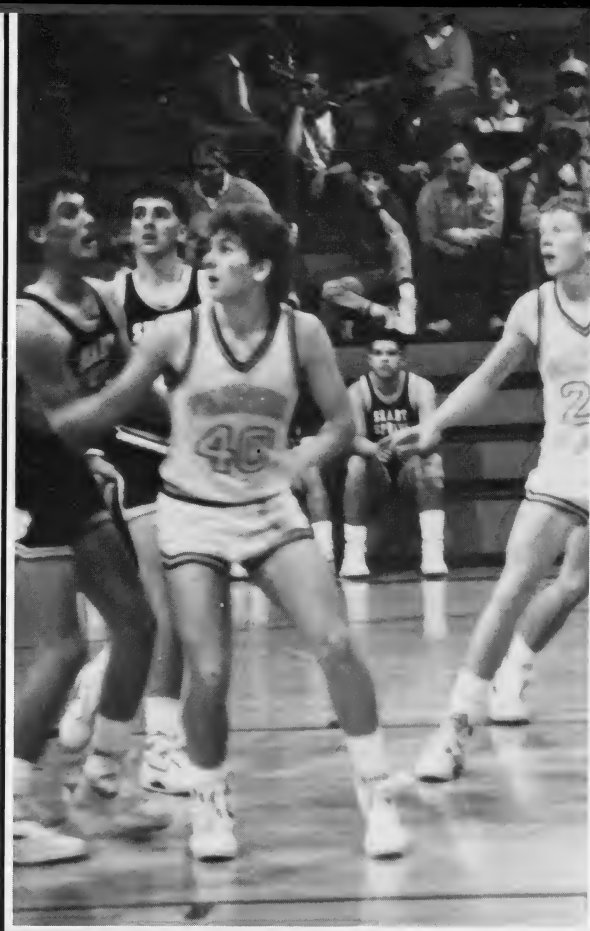

Teresa Mick, junior, hopes to add a point by shooting a foul shot. ←

Senior Randy Casteel and junior Tim Gordon demonstrate good boxing-out technique against Shady Spring. ➡

Shooting a layup during warmups is Junior Center Tim Gordon. ➡➡

Heather Hanshew, Rachel Irvine, Dawn Rodriguez, Melissa Grimes, Rebekah Schwartz, and Hope Kinnison worked hard to cheer the freshman team to victory. ↓

The 1988-89 freshman basketball team consisted of Bo Casteel, Damian Elliott, Randall Coleman, Michael Taylor, Matt Workman, David Dilley, Tim Coughlin, Chuck Arbogast and Charles Cole. ↑

UPS and DOWNS!

The basketball season was filled with many highs and lows and streaks of all kinds. The Warriors finished the regular season with a .500 mark at 10-10, but dropped its first round tournament game to have a combined 10-11 record for the entire season. The young team, only having three seniors among the team's eleven members, looked extremely impressive during one six-game stretch midway through the season.

Leading scorer for the varsity squad was junior Jason Armstrong, with an average of 17.6 points per game. Following closely was junior Tim Gordon, who held 17.3 points per game. Jason Armstrong also led the team with a season total of 150 assists, while junior Tracey McClure had a season total of 52 steals. Also Tim Gordon led the squad with 23 blocked shots and was a close second to senior Bill Coughlin in rebounding, as Bill pulled down a season total of 153 boards and Tim 151.

Much hard work and many long hours were spent by Coach Robert Sheets and the members of the ball team to achieve the success that was achieved during the season. Only a few Sunday afternoons passed that did not find the varsity squad hard at practice in the gym. The team, through the hard work and long hours, enjoyed their success but hoped for more.

The Junior Varsity squad was off to an extremely slow start, but managed to pull out wins to finish the season with a 4-14 record. The JV team was led all season by sophomores Billy Carpenter, Brian Hipes, Mathew Taylor, and Donald Poage. Coach Jack Cain found the season to be quite enjoyable despite the losing record.

The freshman basketball team enjoyed a successful season, as they started out slow but finished with a flurry, taking third place in the Nicholas County Invitational Tournament. Coach Chuck Workman proved to be prodigy in his first season as head coach of the freshman team. Freshmen Matt Workman, David Dilley, and Bo Casteel proved to be the team leaders for the successful freshman team.

Those players receiving honors for their achievements during the basketball season were: Tim Gordon and Jason Armstrong, all-sectional tournament team, Jenny Workman, all-sectional cheerleader, David Dilley, Nicholas County Invitational Tournament team, Rachel Irvine, Nicholas County Invitational Cheerleading Squad.

Next season promises to be a successful year, as a great majority of the ball players return. The varsity and junior varsity programs seem to be on the right track for many winning seasons.

P.C.H.S.	81	Shady Spring	102
P.C.H.S.	66	Nicholas Co.	78
P.C.H.S.	78	Tygarts Valley	51
P.C.H.S.	74	Greenbrier West	83
P.C.H.S.	71	Richwood	66
P.C.H.S.	64	Shady Spring	104
P.C.H.S.	70	Nicholas Co.	79
P.C.H.S.	69	Union	78
P.C.H.S.	87	Braxton Co.	78
P.C.H.S.	68	Webster Co.	63
P.C.H.S.	65	Franklin	49
P.C.H.S.	74	Tucker Co.	65
P.C.H.S.	77	Richwood	67
P.C.H.S.	57	Franklin	72
P.C.H.S.	55	Webster Co.	76
P.C.H.S.	66	Greenbrier West	71
P.C.H.S.	85	Union	84
P.C.H.S.	55	Tucker Co.	84
P.C.H.S.	82	Braxton Co.	71
P.C.H.S.	93	Greenbrier West	60

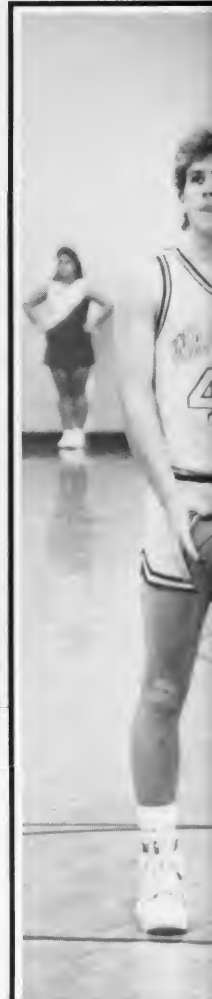

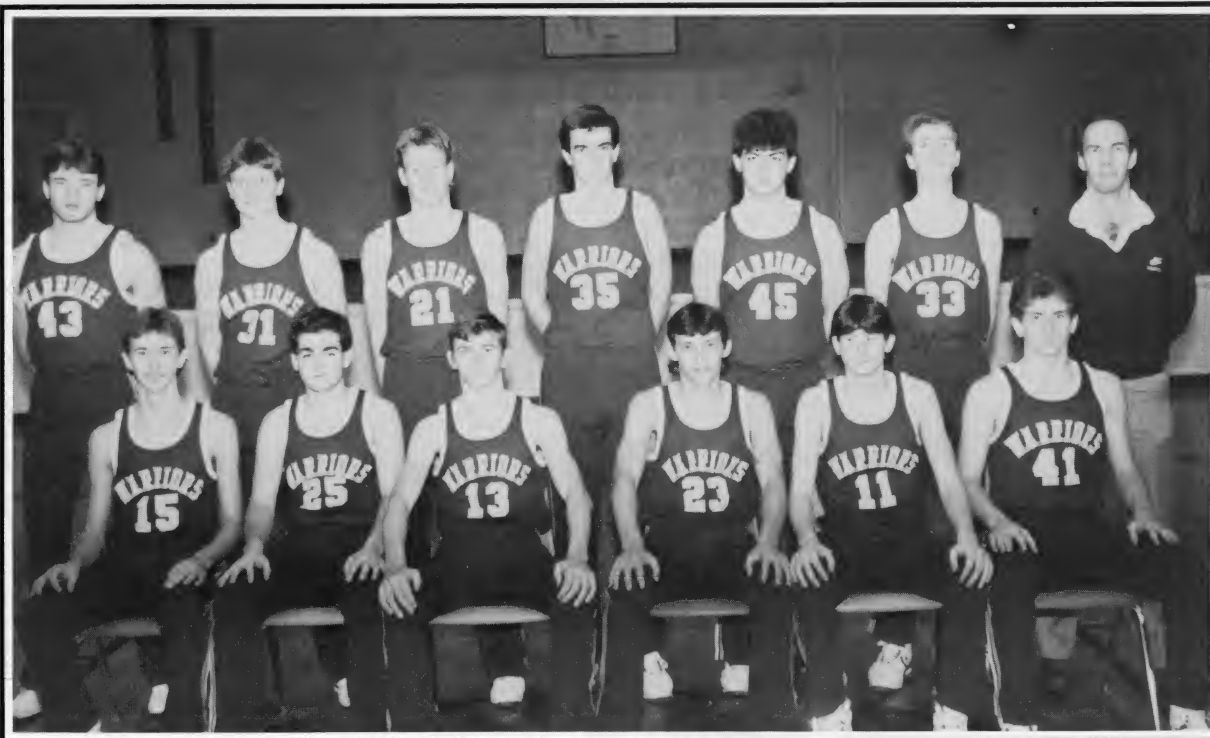

Talking to one of his freshman players, Steve Curry, is Coach Chuck Workman. ←←

Surrounded by Shady Spring players, sophomore Jeff Weber maneuvers to attempt a shot. ←

Comprising the Junior Varsity Basketball team are: back row, left to right, Scott Lambert, Dana Kinnison, Brian Hipes, Rudy Gelis, Donald Poage, Mathew Taylor, front row: Junior Hill, Jamie Gragg, Jeff Weber, Richard Lane and Todd Gay ↓

Junior Stacy McClure receives instructions from Senior Brian Helmick on where to position himself on defense. →

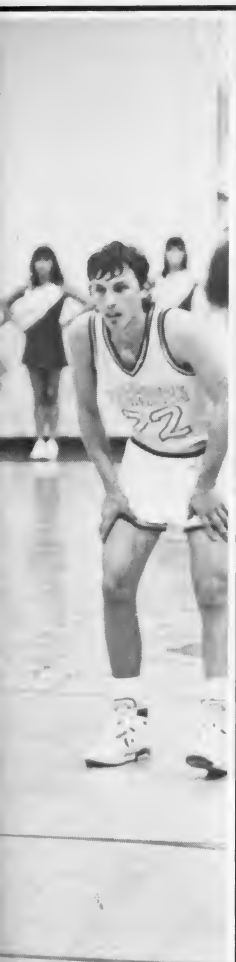

Comprising the Varsity Basketball team are: back row, left to right, Danny Carpenter, Randy Buzzard, Tim Gordon, P. J. Harper, Scott Hayes, Bill Coughlin, and Coach Robert Sheers, front row: Billy Carpenter, Brian Helmick, Stacy McClure, Jason Armstrong, Richard McMillion, and Randy Castreel. ↑

Senior Randy Castreel goes through his pre-foulshot regiment while junior Jason Armstrong enjoys the break from the quick-paced game. →

Changing of the Guards

Junior Scott Hayes takes a quick trip to the floor as junior Jason Armstrong and Senior Randy Casreel questionably watch the ball travel to the basket. ↘

Senior Bill Coughlin shows great concentration while attempting a foul shoot during the first game of the season, a loss to Shady Spring ↑

Sophomore Rudy Gelis shows his great coordination while struggling with a Tygarts Valley player over the ball. ←

The Varsity Cheerleaders are Jenny Workman head, Tina Palmer, Cindi Burke, Harriet Holley, and Lisa Foe. ↑

Moving to the beat, as she loves to cheer, is junior Lisa Foe. ↑

Making sure they are synchronized in their motions are sophomores Tina Palmer and Harriet Holley. ↑

I say a BOOM-CHICK-A-BOOM!!

The Pocahontas County Cheerleaders worked hard all year to become the best they could be. They tried to succeed in cheering the teams on and getting their crowds involved. One of their goals was to spread enthusiasm throughout the school.

The cheerleaders as a group make an impression on each other, as well as their crowd. Their being close-knit showed in their performances.

The cheerleaders started off the season by having a bake sale. This money was used when, on August 6, the varsity cheerleaders travelled to Morgantown for a one-day cheerleading camp by the Spirit Cheerleading Association.

At the camp they learned floor cheers, sideline cheers, chants, stunts, and two dance routines. The day went by fast, and the cheerleaders came home with an "excellent" ribbon, many new ideas, and an abundance of enthusiasm to start the new year.

August 1, 1988 was a very important date to all cheerleaders because on this day, cheerleading became a nation-wide sport. Congratulations to all cheerleaders.

The cheerleaders started practicing on August 1. One of their hardest goals was to learn 89 cheers in the 19 days before the first game. But learning cheers and being good at them is not all it takes to be a good cheerleader. A cheerleader has to have spirit, personality, good technique, appearance, good health, good grades, rhythm, and coordination. It takes a lot of hard work and time to be a cheerleader.

When head cheerleader Jenny Workman was asked what she wanted to say, she said, "I would like to say thanks to our sponsors, Mrs. Friel and Mrs. Wilburn, for their time and effort. We really appreciate you!"

The 1988-89 freshman cheerleaders were Rachel Irvine, Rebekah Schwartz, Lynelle Lewis, Hope Kinnison, Dawn Rodriguez, and Melissa Grimes. The freshman squad cheered only at the basketball games, since there was no separate freshman football team.

Taking a quick break after a long tiring game are junior, Jenny Workman and sophomore, Tina Palmer. ←

A big decision must be at hand, as sophomores, Cindy Burke, Tina Palmer, Harrier Holley, juniors, Lisa Foe, have a chat. ←

Cindy Burke, sophomore, reaches for the sky as juniors, Jenny Workman, Lisa Foe, sophomores, Harrier Holley and Tina Palmer help her. ↑

Doing a statue like move are junior, Jenny Workman and sophomore, Harrier Holley. ←←

Synchronization is very important during side-line cheers, to keep the teams spirit up. ←

Putting on a great floor cheer are juniors Jenny Workman, Lisa Foe, sophomores, Cindy Burke and Harrier Holley. ↙

Can't slow

This year the 1989 track season started out with a chill! The first track meet was on April 8 at Oak Hill. If you could have been there, you wouldn't have believed your eyes! Giant snowflakes were falling everywhere, the ground was covered, as well as the track! It was snowing so hard that the meet was called off! It was something we'll never forget!

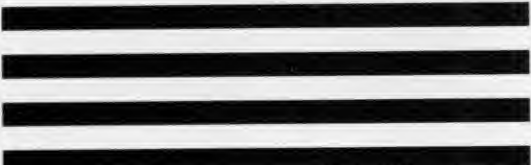

The season continued to be a rainy one, but it didn't stop anyone. We just keep putting forth our best effort.

Each meet got better and better — the times of the runners, the distances of the throwers. Races such as the 4X100, the open 100, 3200, 800, shotput, and discus all greatly improved.

They say practice makes perfect, and I believe it! We practiced everyday after school, but when the state track meet rolled around we were glad we worked as hard as we did!

P.C.H.S. girls track team: Heather McGee, Lori Matheny, Missi Poage, Alison Rexrode, April Moore, Missy Duncan, Teresa Mick, Tina Reigel, Dawn McLaughlin, Lori Cook, Stacey Oliver, and Cheryl Green. ↑

Up in the air is Tina Reigel as she tries to set a new record in the long jump. ↓

Freshman Lori Cook moves out to take the lead at a Greenbrier West track meet.

DOWN!

Discussing the day's events are Stacey Oliver, Teresa Mick, Heather McGee, and Dawn McLaughlin.↓

Coach Lindsey measures the distance of the shotput, as Missy Duncan picks it up for another try.↑

Mrs. Shupe, the coach of the girls track team, is busy working with the track schedule.↓

Cheryl Green gets a good handoff of the baton from Lori Matheny.↑

Frozen in a tricky position is Allison Rexrode.↑

Kicking

Boy's Track members include (front row left to right): Robert Gray, Junior Hill, Todd Gay, Brad Frum, Cameron Barkley, Stacey McClure, and Chris Alikakos. Second row: Shawn Nottingham, David Watson, Shane Alikakos, Chris Coy, Danny Carpenter, Charlie Cole, Monte Friel, Kevin Halterman, and Randy Casteel.↓

In order to be competitive at the high-school level in track, participants must be in top physical condition. Track coach Mr. Lindsey put his troops through rigorous exercises and running drills to prepare them for the season.

The boys track season started off with a big surprise. They were snowed out at the Midland Trail Invitational at Oak Hill. They next went to Glenville for a meet against Gilmer Co. and South Harrison, where they placed second with a score of 69.

The team overall had a great season, with a few outstanding efforts by some excellent athletes. Danny Carpenter won every 400-meter dash except for one at the Oak Hill Invitational. He also qualified and came in second in the state meet in Charleston, with a time of 50.9 in the 400-meter. Danny also anchored the 4x400 relay team of Chris Alikakos, Randy Casteel, and Richard Hill, Jr., which placed 8th at the state meet. The returning members should have a great season next year.

Cameron Barkley gains much track experience during his freshman year.↑

Chris Coy puts his all into running the relay.↑

it in!!

Trying to keep ahead is freshman Charles Cole. ↑

Mr. Lindsey carefully observes the PCHS track team. ↑

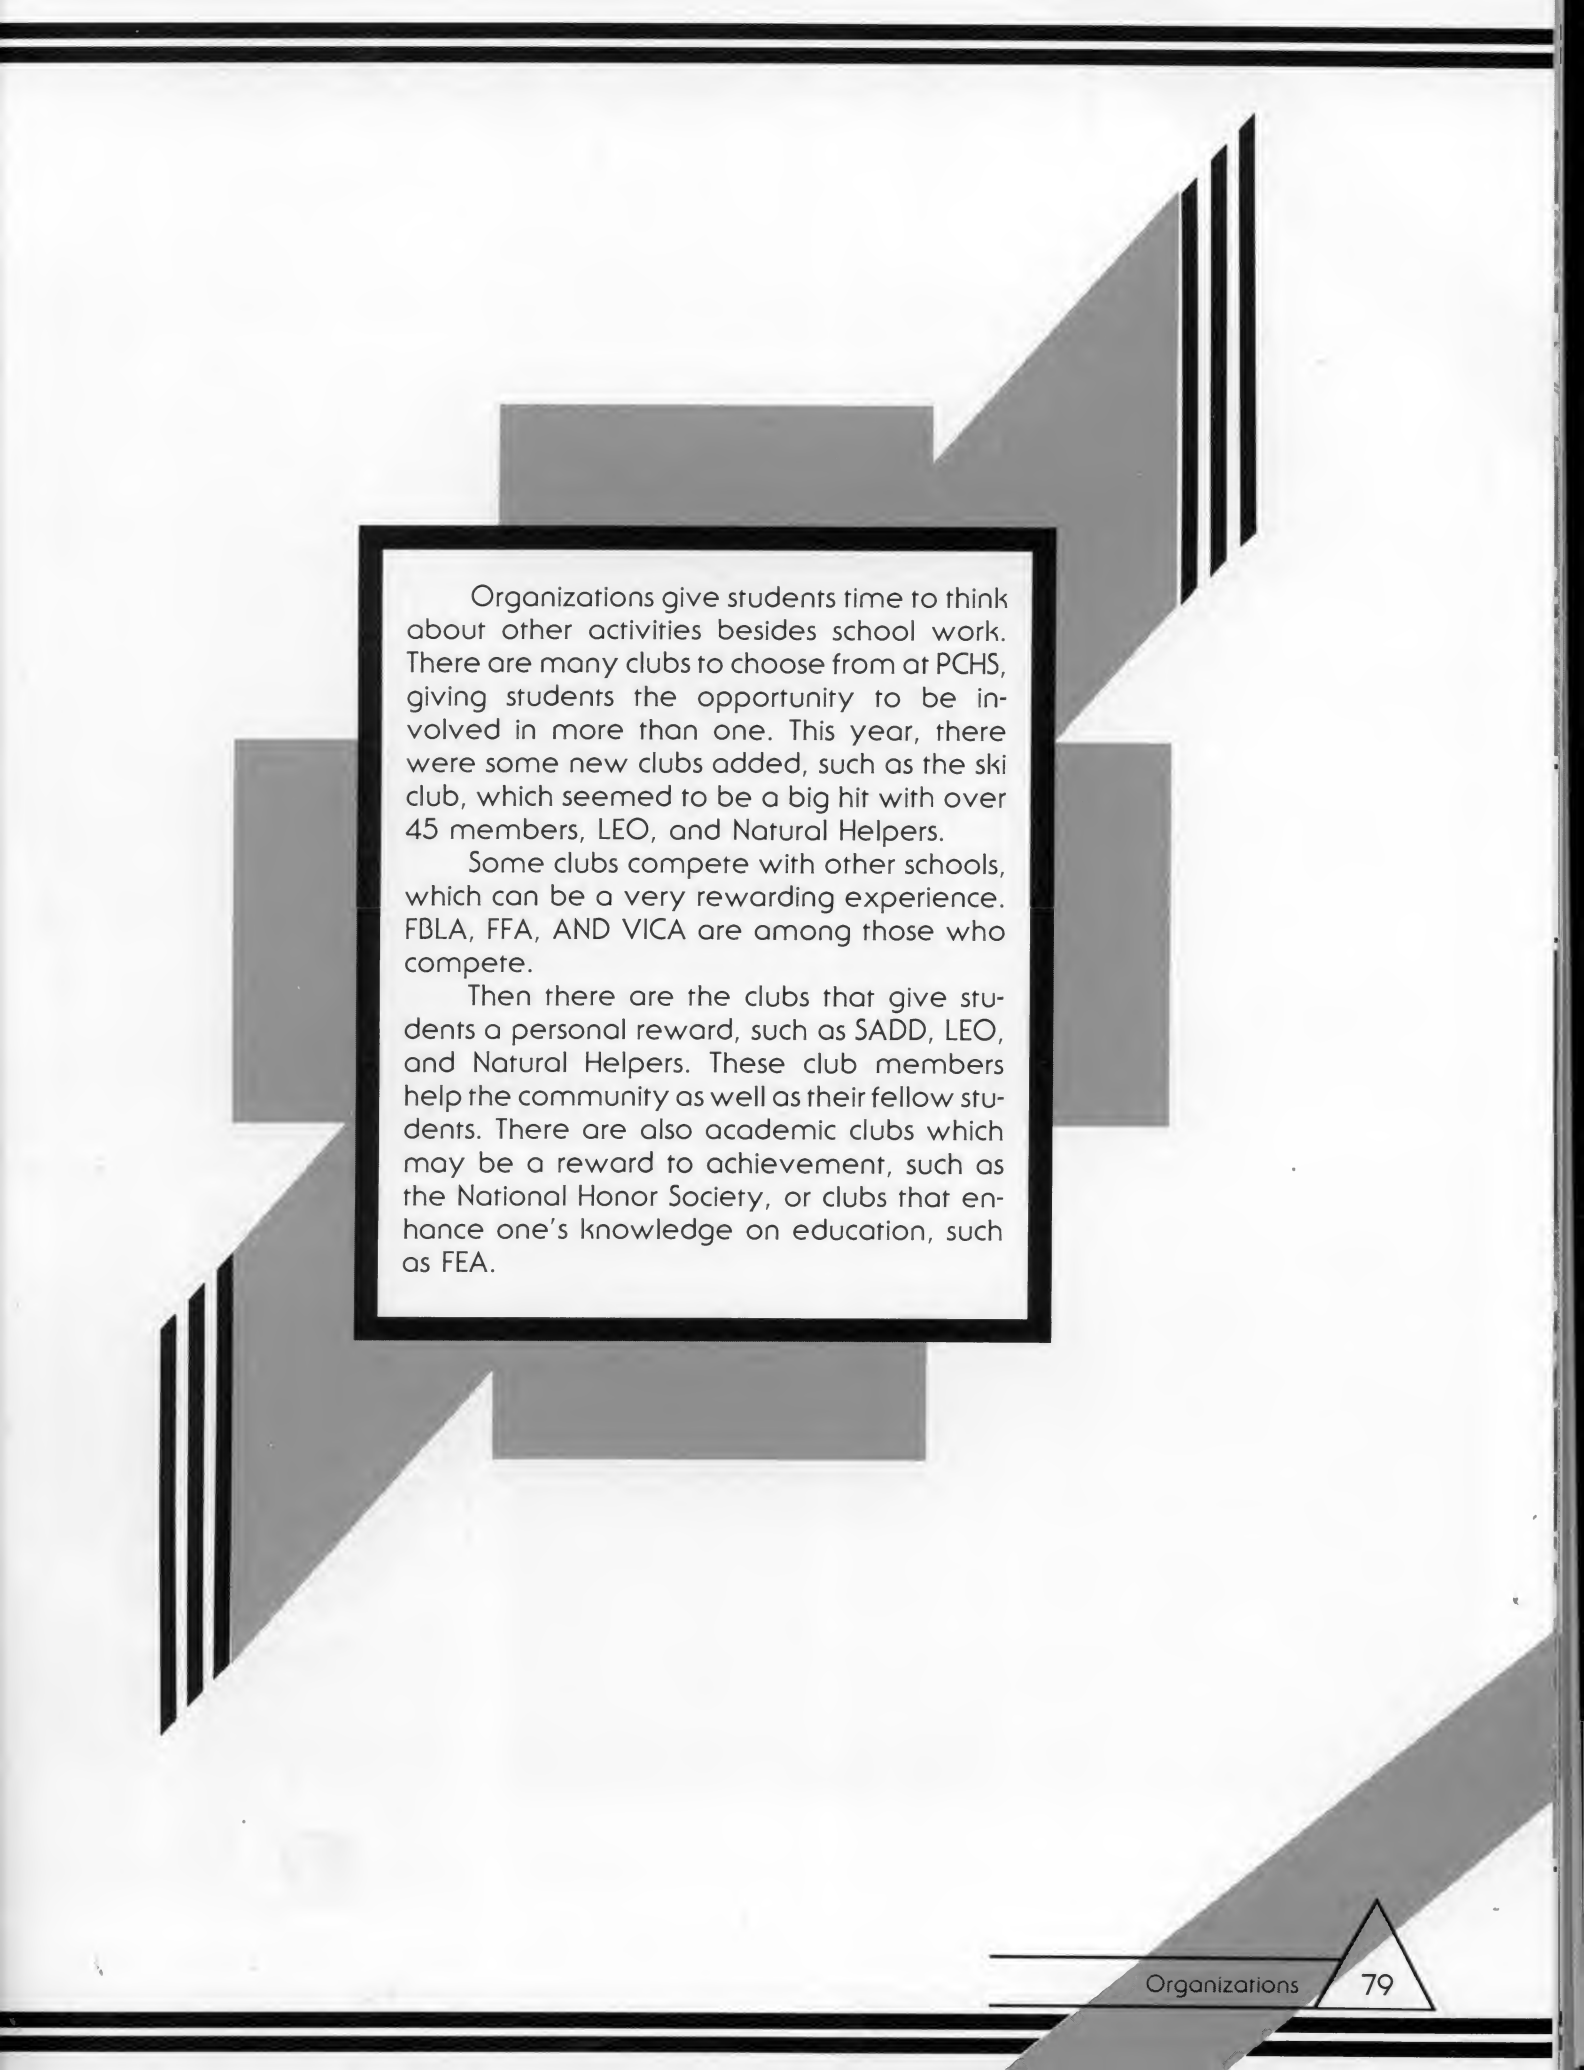

Onny Carpenter was the "superstar" of the 1989 track season. ↑

Out in front is senior Chris Alilikos as he is determined to win. ↑

ORGANIZATIONS

SADD member, Jay Tibbs, sets an example of what may happen if one drinks and drives. SADD participated in the Pioneer Day Parade, to get across the message "Drinking and Driving Don't Mix."

Organizations give students time to think about other activities besides school work. There are many clubs to choose from at PCHS, giving students the opportunity to be involved in more than one. This year, there were some new clubs added, such as the ski club, which seemed to be a big hit with over 45 members, LEO, and Natural Helpers.

Some clubs compete with other schools, which can be a very rewarding experience. FBLA, FFA, AND VICA are among those who compete.

Then there are the clubs that give students a personal reward, such as SADD, LEO, and Natural Helpers. These club members help the community as well as their fellow students. There are also academic clubs which may be a reward to achievement, such as the National Honor Society, or clubs that enhance one's knowledge on education, such as FEA.

WORKING TOGETHER to help others

Three new clubs were established and flourished in their first year this school year. All three clubs are extremely productive and service oriented, as seen by their goals and achievements. In terms of public and student services, these three clubs rank right with the likes of SADD and Student Council.

The Leo Club, a branch of the local Lions Clubs for high school students, was made up of many hard-working, thoughtful individuals. The club partook in public service assignments such as wrapping Christmas presents for underprivileged children in the county and helping the community Lions Clubs with their projects.

Natural Helpers was a club made up of caring, intelligent students who were willing to offer advice and help the students in need. Over the summer the club held a two-day seminar, where the prospective club members learned the ropes of counseling.

The Conservation Club was off to a moderately slow start but proved to be a productive club for those wishing to pursue a career in forestry.

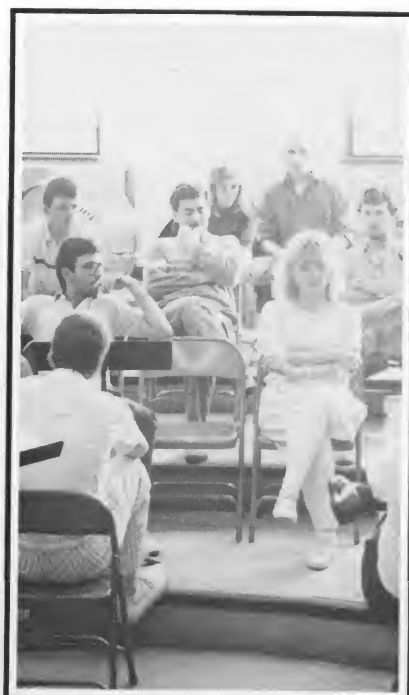

The members of the Conservation Club are: Joey Gragg, Brooksie Barnett, Kenney Hill, Steve Hickman. Row 2 - Tony McKenney, Kelvin Shearer, Jamie Collins, John Ryder, Eric Gainer, Mr. Burns, Steven Shearer. Row 3 - Adam Jackson, Mike Kelley, Aceil Ryder, and Ronnie Friel. ↑

Working on others' problems during Natural Helpers meeting are: Beverly VanReenan and Debbie Kiner, seniors, Lori Nelson, Naomi Gibson and Scott Lambert, juniors. ↑

During their club meeting, Adam Jackson, sophomore, Joey Gragg, junior, John Burks, junior, Tony McKenney, senior, and Mike Kelley, junior, relax and enjoy their time. ↑↑

Listening to everything that is being said are Melissa Galford and William Lipscomb, members of the Leo Club. ↑

Members of the Leo Club are: Brian Helmick, Jennifer Akers, Bill Coughlin, Brian Beverage, Melissa Galford, Scott Sanders, Jesse Groseclose, Selina Clifton, Curt Feltron, Dave Coit, Teresa Doyle, Tim Coughlin, Tina Reigel, and Tracey Coleman. ↑↑

Natural Helper members are: Debbie Kiner, Brian Beverage, Tina Reigel, Matthew McKean, Harrier Holley, Mary Kinder, Nancy Hefner, Jackie Gibson, Naomi Gibson, Beverly VanReenan, Pam Friel, Gina Mullenox, Patti McCarty, Brian Hipes, Dennis VanRenen, Terra Owens, Lori Nelson, and Scott Lambert. ↑

Discussing Leo Club business are seniors Teresa Doyle, Scott Sanders, Brian Helmick, and Jesse Groseclose, sophomore Melissa Galford, and freshmen Tim Coughlin and William Lipscomb. ↑

Drum till you're

Lisa M. Sharp and Charles Cole played saxophones at a band concert. ➡➡

Mr. Hall seems to find a remark from the audience amusing and worth a response between songs. ➡

August the second came too soon for the members of the "Warrior Band." As the sweltering heat of one of the hottest summers in history beat down upon them, the band slaved away at practicing — practicing! Not only did they learn new songs for parades and shows, they also learned to march and do field routines.

The majorette squad started work earlier in the summer; on July 17 the seven girls and two sponsors went to Concord College in Athens, WV, to participate in the National Majorette Bandfront Clinic. The girls spent four days learning routines with streamers and batons and dance routines. The squad was evaluated on what they were taught and received two red "excellent" ribbons and one blue "superior" ribbon.

Throughout the entire season, the band performed at the home football games and one away game. Improvement came this year, and some say it is due to the new band director, Ron Hall.

The band improved overall and will hopefully keep up the good work!

Band instructor Ronald Hall directs his fine-tuned band during the Christmas concert. ➡

April Moore, Teresa Mick, Lisa M. Sharp, Missy Duncan (mascot), Teresa Doyle (head), Tawnya Terry, and Kristi Miller are the 1988-89 majorettes. ➡

The drum corps prepare for the Christmas extravaganza. ↑

numb!

Members of the Warrior Band enthusiastically play a spirit-lifting tune during a football pep rally. ↑

Catching up on the day's events are Carrie and Cherie Mace. ←

Freshman Kristi Miller daydreams of better days during the Christmas Concert. ↑

Taking a break from performing during a football game, members of the Warrior Band relax. ↑

Struck by the Satellite!

Two new classes were offered via satellite the second semester by the Ti-In Network, which were taught by teachers from San Antonio, Texas. The classes were broadcast over television, and the students could talk to their teacher by telephone. These classes were Marine Biology and Sociology.

The Marine Biology class mainly studied the ocean and the plants and animals that live within it. The students got hands-on work with some of the animals during dissection.

The Sociology class studied man in groups and what effect different morals, etc., have on the individual.

The Show Choir performed at the Christmas and Spring concerts. Hopefully the classes will grow in size, especially Show Choir, so the class can again participate in competitions.

Matthew McKean, Jenny Blankenship, Crystal Morgan, and Missy Wingler enjoy talking to their Marine Biology teacher on the phone.

Robert Gray and April Moore are listening to their teacher's lectures.

Beverly VanReenan works hard to complete her Sociology assignment.

Music to my ears!

Stephanie Hope is singing a tune as she does her dance steps in choir practice. †

Rob Liptrap and Lori Matheny practice their routine during choir practice. †

PCHS Choir sing their hearts out at the Christmas Concert. 1st row - Cathy Trainer, Lisa Sharp, Tammy Gordon, Lori Matheny. 2nd row - Rob Liptrap, Anita Parsons, Angie Stanley, and Julie Lambert. ††

Taking pride in showing their award-winning display are VICA members.↓

Election of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America officers was held in the first meeting of the year. The officers were: President, Rosella Beverage; vice-president, Frankie Cassell; secretary, Lori Terry; treasurer, Brad Frum; and parliamentarian, Kevin Halterman. The year held many events for the VICA club. The first of these events was a trip to Cedar Lakes for the Leadership Olympics. The club participated in various competitions, such as Business Procedures, Display, Opening and Closing Ceremonies, Extemporaneous Speaking, and Safety Poster. The carpentry and electronic classes worked together for many months to complete the display that won first place by Frankie Cassell. Club Business also won first place. Participating in this were: Brad Frum, Rosella Beverage, Brett Carr, Randy Casteel, Jason Workman, Jennifer Canada, and George Goode. Both of these teams will go to Oklahoma for nationals. In April the club attended Skilled Olympics in Putnam County. While there, Brad Frum won third place in Product Servicing, and Keith Pingley won third place in carpentry.

Patently working on a component for electronics is Rosella Beverage.↑

Senior Scott Pennington is taking a five-minute break from a busy day.↑

Frankie Cassell is pleased with his VICA performance.↑↑

A black and white photograph of a large group of students and faculty members posing in a gymnasium. They are arranged in several rows on bleachers. In the front row, a banner is held that reads "AMERICA'S NEW PROFESSIONALS". The gymnasium has a basketball hoop and backboard visible in the background.

VICA members are: Back row: Garland Wilfong, Brian Puffenbarger, David Puffenbarger, Jay Puffenbarger, Donald Cook, Lee Arbogast, and Nick Circostra. Second row, Mike Wolfe, David Hise, Chuck Sharp, John Clutter, Scott Pennington, Rick Lambert, Edgar Friel, John Lovelace, Scott Hayes, Earl Pritt, Steve Sumner, and Steve Poage. Third row, Junior Goode, Eric Perkins, Barbara Miller, Johnnie Beverage, James Morgan, Chris Murray, Jason Workman, Randy Casteel, Jenny Workman, Paul Barrett, Danny Carpenter, Monte Friel, Curtis Murray, Daniel Bennett, and Sam Taylor. Fourth row, Gary Beverage, Richard Thompson, Brad Totten, Dennis VanReenen, Kevin Hannah, Denton Circostra, John Hannah, Keith Pingley, Brett Carr, Debbie Raddliff, Leslie Wilfong, Susan Shreve, Brian McClure, David Kincaid, and Richard Ziegler. Fifth Row, Missy McLaughlin, Angie Kudd, Willie Mullenax, Kevin Thompson, Kevin Holtermann, Jennifer Canada, Brad Frum, Rosella Beverage, Lori Perry, Frankie Cassell, Nathan Gibson, and P. C. Dean. ↑

Pocahontas

Athletes' Feet??

Among the many clubs at PCHS are the Varsity and GAA clubs. These cater to the athletes of the school. Each of these groups tries to organize at least one activity for their members each year. This is usually a trip to some sporting event.

The Varsity Club, for male athletes, decided to attend a college basketball game between the West Virginia Mountaineers and the Temple Owls. The trip was financed through various fundraisers by the club members.

The GAA, the Varsity Club's female counterpart, attended the Women's College Basketball tournaments as a club activity.

G.A.A. Members are: first row, Apryl Boyce, Teresa Mick, April Moore, Missy Poage, and Heather McGee. Second row, Leslie Sheets, Lisa Sharp, Missy Hefner, Stacey Oliver, Dawn McLaughlin, Kristi Miller, Janell Turner, and Kelley Gordon. ➡

Varsity Club Members are: Kevin Halterman, Jason Workman, Ron Kelley, Mike Buzzard, Chris Alikakos, Shawn Nottingham, Randy Casteel, and Monte Friel. ↓

Slope Monsters and Snow Mongers

This year's ski season opened with six inches of new snow and the promise of an excellent season. A particularly bright spot of this season was the new ski club at PCHS.

Mr. Ziegler, the club sponsor, said that the motivation for starting the club was to encourage people to learn to ski, to introduce the sport in a good way, and to get better rates from the local ski resorts. Both Snowshoe and Silver Creek offered ski club members a $10.00 package that included ski rentals, a lesson, and a lift ticket. Mr. Ziegler said that Snowshoe was very helpful in the formation of the club.

Ski Club members are: Dottie Malcom, Rebekah Schwartz, Stephanie Hope, Brian McClure, Lori Martin, Ben Ziegler, Dara Coulter, Katie McGreal, Mike Layne, Kurt Behrens, Mrs. Rose, Charles May, Rudy Gelis, Billy Carpenter, Paul Barrett, Mark Mospan, Shane Alikakos, Alessia Jesselli, Stacey Workman, Mr. Ziegler, Randy Buzzard, Shannon Arbogast, Brad Totten, Juli Beckwith, David Peacock, Todd Gay, Brian Helmick, Phillip Warren, Bill Coughlin, Jimmy Grimes, Donald Conley, John Corder, Brett Carr, Nathan Gibson, Rosella Beverage, Tammy Gordon, Mark Reynolds, Monte Friel, David Watson, Chris Alikakos, Frankie Cassell, John Hannah, Ron Kelley, Steve Poage, Teresa Doyle, Chuck Sharp, and Shawn Nottingham.

SAFE ON SKIS $10.00

COUNTY ADULT

FEBRUARY 27, 1989

FEBRUARY 27, 1989

S.O.S.-SAFE ON SKIS

10960113

The user of this ticket as a condition of being permitted to use the facilities of the area agrees To assume all risks of personal injury or loss of or damage to property

The purchaser and user of this ticket assumes and understands that this is a hazardous sport. That bare spots, variations in snow, ice, and terrain along with bumps, moguls, stumps, forest growth, and cabins and rocks and many other hazards or obstacles exist within this ski area. In using this ticket and skiing at this area, such dangers are recognized and accepted whether they are marked or unmarked. The skier realizes that falls and collisions do occur and injuries may result and therefore assumes the burden of skiing under control at all times.

Management is not responsible for ticket if lost and this ticket may be revoked without refund at any time for misconduct or nuisance caused by the holder.

Ticket is void if seal is broken and must be visible and attached to the clothing.

NO REFUNDS - NOT TRANSFERABLE

John Hannah, senior, works part-time at The Ski Barn, which usually turns out to be a full-time job.

"A father-son outing is what you make of it," says Mr. Ziegler to his son, Ben, as they ski at Silver Creek.

Organizations

89

Be an Engineer – Domestic, That Is!

PC.H.S. Future Homemakers of America for the 88-89 school year functioned as an integral part of the home economics program. Each class formed a separate chapter, with an elected chairperson, recorder, and executive council member. Executive Council officers were Marcella Rexrode, President; Cindi Burke, Secretary; and Nancy Hefner, Treasurer.

F.F.A. participated in many activities throughout the year. They went to Morgantown for state Vo-Ag judging contests. The Forestry and Poultry teams went to Kansas City. Officers were Randy Buzzard, President; Debbie Kiner, Vice-President; John Rose, Secretary; Jerdina Mullenax, Reporter; Nevin Lucabaugh, Treasurer; and Stacy McClure, Sentinel.

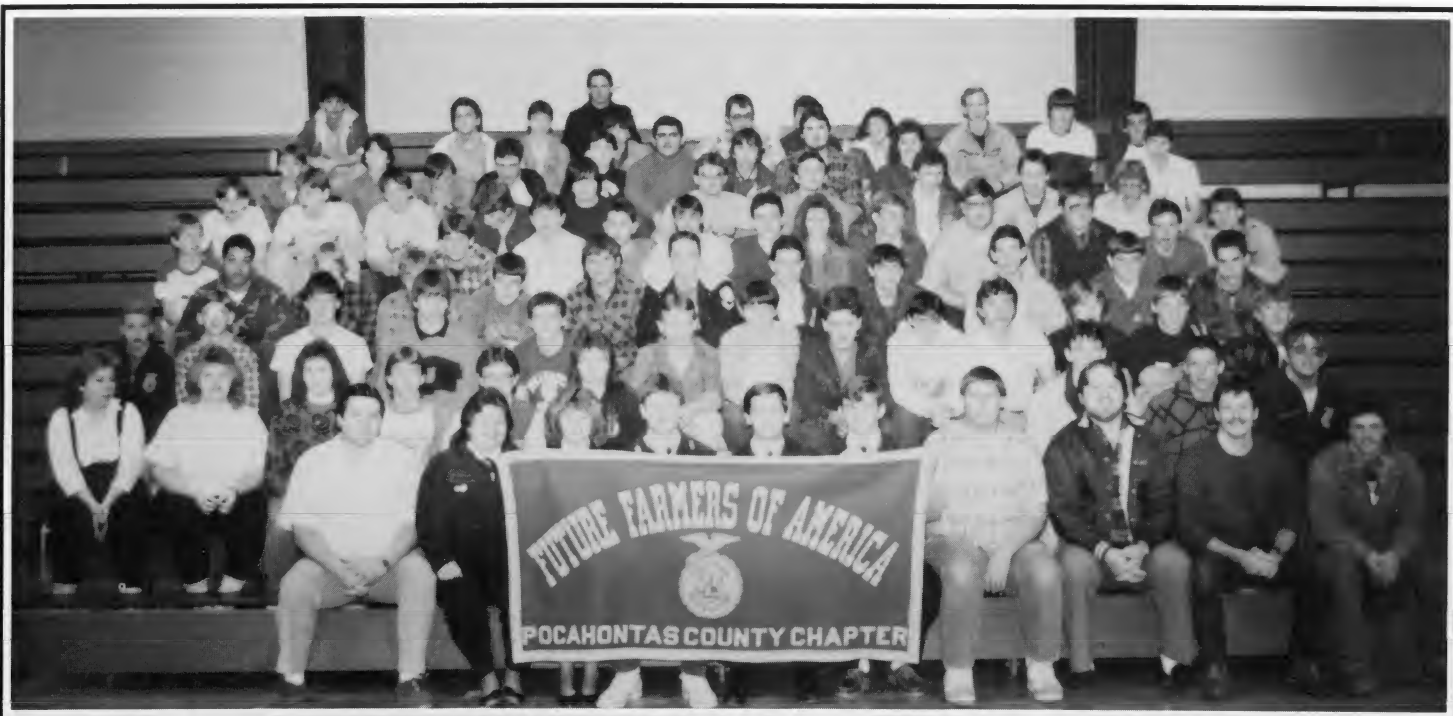

Randy Buzzard holds the trophy won for being named the Superior FFA Chapter at the Vo-Ag competition in Morgantown. ↑

Melinda Mullenax and Donna Morrison are waiting to work on an FHA project.

Displaying their awards are the FFA Chapter. Front row: Kenney Hill, Jamie Collins, Jerdina Mullenax, Chris Baxter, Debbie Kiner, Randy Buzzard, Joey Gragg, Richard Hill, Greg Bennett, Bo Casteel. Second row: John Ryder, Laura Grimes, Richard Lane, Susan Arbogast, Martin Sharp, David Cochran, Kim Stull, John Corde. Third row: Tom Crickenberger, Mathew Taylor, Garrett Sisler, Mr. Cain, Mike Kelley. Fourth row: Lewis Arbogast, Tim Nicely, Brooksie Barnett, Curtis Murray, Vivian McCarty, Joey Bussard, David Peacock, George Goode. Fifth row: Tony McKenney, Jackie Moore, Steve Poage, Nevin Lucabaugh, Mike Taylor, Jay Puffenbarger, Stacy McClure, Brian Puffenbarger, Elbert Sharpe, Charles Cole, Donald Poage, Budd Kellison, and Adam Jackson. ↑

KANSAS CITY, NATIONAL BOUND

F.F.A. members are: Row 1: Mr. Jack Cain, Jerdina Mullenax, Debbie Kiner, Randy Buzzard, John Rose, Stacey McClure, Nevin Lucabaugh, Mr. Steve Bland, Mr. Mike Burns, Steven Shearer. Row 2: Vivian McCarty, Kim Stull, Mary Galford, Willie Mullenax, Stacy Lambert, Loretta Mallow, Brooksie Barnett, Kenney Hill, Paul Barrett. Row 3: Greg Bennett, Allen Landis, Jamie Smith, Shannon Arbogast, Greg Hively, John Gibson, Larry Evans, John Paul Mills, Richard McCarty, Mitchell Kramer, Trampus Hammons, Rick Moore, Ronnie Friel. Row 4: Brian Puffenbarger, Jay Puffenbarger, David Puffenbarger, Martin Sharp, Bucky Brock, Dana Kinnison, Richard Lane, Donald Poage, Scott Lambert, Richard Hill, Elbert Sharpe. Row 5: David Cochran, Travis Workman, Chuck Arbogast, John Combs, Steve Hickman, Brian Friel, Laura Grimes, Mathew Taylor, Adam Jackson, Roger Jackson, Joey Gragg, Galen Biggs. Row 6: Michael Thomas, Brad Dunz, Matt Workman, John Lovelace, Robert Mayle, Steve Poage, Ronnie Rexrode, Garrett Sisler, Tom Crickenberger, John Berry. Row 7: Chawn Loudermills, John Pritt, Donald Conley, John Corder, Bo Casteel, Buddy Kellison, Jeff Moore, Dan Bennett, Audrey Lovelace, Chris Friel. Row 8: Roger Teter, Michael Taylor, Tim Nicely, Lewis Arbogast, Mike Kelley, Chris Baxter, Susan McKenney, Charlie Cole, John Shinaberry, Charles Irvine. Row 9: George Goode.

F.H.A. members include: Row 1: Diana Sheppard, Lisa Bennett, Shelly Barrett, Mandy Barb, Pam Jackson, Dreama Anderson, Nancy Hefner, Sam Kincaid, Lucinda Hanna, Cindy Armstrong, Ina Pritt, Mrs. Linda VanReenen. Row 2: Michelle Hiner, Rachel Broyles, Jessie Walton, Tara Gares, Lynn Dean, Angelena Wilfong, Hope Kinnison, Tina Madison, Bonnie White, Dottie Malcom, Angie Stanley, Naomi Gibson. Row 3: Christine Seabolt, Melanie Riffe, Lyn Lewis, Catrina Sparks, Kim Ryder, Kim Shinaberry, Donna Morrison, Aracoma Sopanski, Lori Cook, Carol Roberts, Tammy Barb. Row 4: Donna Conley, Tina Shearer, Rachel Withers, Misty Cochran, Lori Matheny, Cindi Burke, Cherie Mace, Carrie Mace, Jody Morgan, Harriet Holley, Jackie Gibson. Row 5: Marsha Grimes, Lisa Sharp, Chantrell Sheets, Tina Grubb, Julie Lambert, Susan Goldizen, Melissa Galford, Tonya Parker, Robin Weatherholt.

Getting

Members of the S.A.D.D. club are: left to right, front row: Jesse Groseclose, Scott Sanders, Doug White, Dave Coit, Dreama Anderson, Patti McCarty, Teresa Doyle, Jennifer Akers, Shelby Barrett. Second row: Crystal Morgan, Jennifer Blankenship, Christine Seabolt, Melanie Riffe, Carina Sparks, Lyn Lewis, Rachel Broyles, Jennifer Armstrong, Mandy Barb, Pam Jackson. Third row: Leslie Sheets, Lisa Foe, Tammy Gordon, Lori Matheny, Misty Cochran, Rachel Withers, Beverly Tracy. Fourth row: Stacey Oliver, Stephanie Gibson, Dottie Malcom, Susan Gainer, Cindi Burke, Tina Palmer, Jeanette Canada, Lewis Mullenax, Stacey Coleman, Melinda Mullenax, Donnelle Morris. Fifth row: William Russell, Dana Cutlip, Dawn McLaughlin, Jackie Gibson, Janell Turner, Amy Workman, Debra Roddick, Lisa E. Sharp, Chantell Sheets. Sixth row: Lori Martin, Jay Tibbs, Tawnya Terry, Stephanie Hope, Hope Kinnison, Tina Madison, Tim Coughlin, David Smith, Randall Coleman. Back row: Rebekah Schwartz, Heather Hansew, Jennifer Canada, April Moore, Debbie Rose, Missi Poage, and Kristi Miller. †

F.B.L.A. members are: Left to right, front row: Mary Kinder, Michelle Hiner, P. J. Harper, Beth Roach. Second row: Mrs. Rhea, Morsho Grimes, Mrs. Stewart, Missy Jordan, Angelena Willong, Lyn Lewis, Stacey Oliver, Aracomo Sapanski, Debbie Kiner, Nancy Hefner, Lisa E. Sharp. Third row: Jerdino Mullenax, Donno Canley, Traci Alderman, Pam Grogg, Janelle Turner, Rebekah Schwartz, Leslie Sheets, Dawn Rodriguez, Dreama Anderson, Patti McCarty, Stacey Workman. Fourth row: Kim Stull, Candy Sneed, Jay Tibbs, John Broyles, Julie Murphy, Lori Nelson, Jennifer Terry, and Dottie Malcom. ††

Organized!!

The FBLA chapter traveled to the Eastern Sectional Leadership Conference at Potomac State College in Keyser on Saturday, March 18. There the 27 students participated in various contests such as accounting, word processing, typewriting, public and impromptu speaking, job interview, computers, and math. The winners were: Mary Kinder, John Broyles, Kim Stull, Jerdina Mullenax, Donna Conley, David McClure, Jennifer Terry, Missy Jordan, and Janell Turner. These nine winners then went to the State competition at Parkersburg Community College.

The SADD club planned annual after-prom and after-graduation "alcohol-free" parties for all members and anyone else who wanted to attend.

The FEA club held a contest this year with faculty baby pictures that, after a week of guessing who was who, the winner was Brian Helmick, senior, who won $10.00.

Office aides were (left to right, front row): Leslie Wilfong, Debbie Rose, Donna Conley. (Back row) Tammy Puffenbarger, Starlena Holmes, Sheri Kerns, and Beth Roach. ←

Members of the F.E.A. club were: Traci Alderman, Tina Reigel, Jennifer Akers, Beverly VanReenan, Marsha Grimes, Beth Roach, Jesse Groseclose, Brian Helmick, and Brian Beverage. ↑

Cream of The Crop show their talents!

The National Honor Society began the school year with a depleted number of members and quickly moved to elect and initiate new members to their extremely distinguished club. New members to the club were: David McClure, Brad Frum, Randy Buzard, Jay Tibbs, P. J. Harper, Nancy Hefner, Jenny Workman, Sharon Ray, and Lori Nelson.

The Student Council moved slowly in getting off the ground at the beginning of the school year; however proving itself a constructive and worthwhile group of individuals, the Student Council discussed many important and controversial issues in its meetings and decided which of those most challenging topics to pursue. Student Council president Brian Helmick stated, "Hopefully this Student Council can make a few things happen to improve our school for the students."

Junior P. J. Harper shows us how to get ahead during Student Council meetings. ↑

Junior Lori Nelson intently consumes National Honor Society news at one of the many productive NHS meetings. ↑

This year's homeroom representatives to the Student Council are: 1st row - Melissa Grimes, Lori Martin, Missy Jordan, Cindi Burke, 2nd row - Scott Sanders, Dana Cutlip, Lisa Sharp, Janell Turner, Jeanette Canada, 3rd row - Debbie Rose, George Goode, Brian Helmick, Missy Duncan, Michelle Hiner, Patti McCarty, Angie Lovelace, Lisa Sharp, Dave McClure, Jay Tibbs, P. J. Harper, Bill Coughlin, Randy Casteel, and Jesse Groseclose. ↑

Student Council members Jay Tibbs, Michelle Hiner, Bill Coughlin, and Lisa Sharp discuss upcoming issues concerning the well-being of the student body. ↑

Members of the National Honor Society include: 1st row - Brad Frum, Debbie Radcliff, Sharon Ray, Michelle Hiner, Lori Nelson, Nancy Hefner, Debbie Kiner, Beverly VanReenan, Beth Roach, 2nd row - Dave McClure, Randy Buzzard, Jay Tibbs, P. J. Harper, Chantrell Heets, Scott Sanders, Jenny Workman, Lisa Sharp, and Jesse Groseclose. ↑↑

Senior Scott Sanders finds comments being made during the National Honor Society meeting quite amusing, but Beverly VanReenan does not. ➤

Senior Beverly VanReenan looks toward her constituents, junior Randy Buzzard and seniors Lisa Sharp and Debbie Kiner, for support on an interesting idea. ➡

PEOPLE

John Broyles, senior, struts his stuff with a yo-yo trick.

GOING . . .

Jennifer F. Akers

Jennifer F. Akers

Traci Alderman

Traci Alderman

Chris Alikakos

Chris Alikakos

Dreama J. Anderson

Dreama J. Anderson

Paul H. Barrett

Paul H. Barrett

Jeanette Barton

Jeanette Barton

Dan Bennett

Dan Bennett

Brian Lee Beverage

Brian Lee Beverage

Rosella L. Beverage

Rosella L. Beverage

John Broyles

John Broyles

Mike Buzzard

Mike Buzzard

Daniel W. Carpenter

Daniel W. Carpenter

OVER THE WALL!!

Franklin N. Cassell

Franklin N. Cassell

Randall P. Casreel

Randall P. Casreel

Denton Circosta

Denton Circosta

Nick Circosta III

Nick Circosta III

Selina Y. Clifton

Selina Y. Clifton

David A. Coit

David A. Coit

Jamie Collins

Jamie Collins

Donna Sue Conley

Donna Sue Conley

William J. Coughlin III

William J. Coughlin III

Tim Dean

Tim Dean

Teresa Dale Doyle

Teresa Dale Doyle

William Doyle

William Doyle

Michelle Lee Duncan

Michelle Lee Duncan

Monte Friel

Monte Friel

Ronnie A. Friel

Ronnie A. Friel

Mary Galford

Mary Galford

Tony Garretson

Mary Marcella Greer Rexrode

Mary Marcella Greer Rexrode

James L. Grimes

James L. Grimes

Marsha Lynn Grimes

Marsha Lynn Grimes

Pam Grogg

Pam Grogg

Jesse Groseclose

Jesse Groseclose

Kevin L. Halterman

Kevin L. Halterman

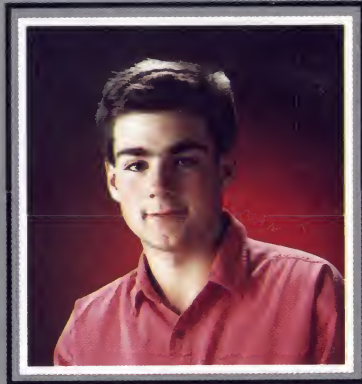

John M. Hannah

John M. Hannah

Nancy Carol Hefner

Nancy Carol Hefner

Brian C. Helmick

Brian C. Helmick

Kenney A. Hill

Kenney A. Hill

Michelle V. Hiner

Michelle V. Hiner

Gina Marie Hickman Jack

Gina Marie Hickman Jack

Ronald Kelley

Ronald Kelley

Sherry L. Kerns

Sherry L. Kerns

Regina Kerr Mullenax

Regina Kerr Mullenax

Mary C. Kinder

Mary C. Kinder

Deborah S. Kiner

Deborah S. Kiner

Rob Liptrap

Rob Liptrap

Becky Sue Long

Becky Sue Long

John D. Lovelace

John D. Lovelace

Robert Mayle

Robert Mayle

Patti McCarty

Patti McCarty

Brian McClure

Brian McClure

Tony A. McKenney

Tony A. McKenney

Melissa A. McLaughlin

Melissa A. McLaughlin

Barbara A. Miller

Barbara A. Miller

April Moore

April Moore

Sandy J. Moore

Sandy J. Moore

James W. Morgan (Jimmy)

James W. Morgan (Jimmy)

Jerdina Mullenax

Jerdina Mullenax

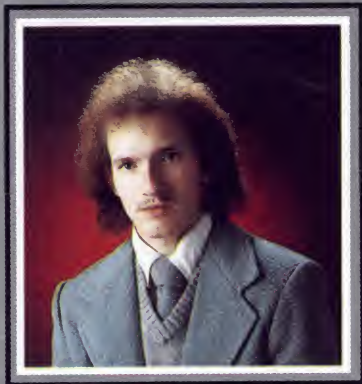

Willie E. Mullenax

Willie E. Mullenax

Tonya L. Parker

Tonya L. Parker

Marty S. Pennington

Marty S. Pennington

Eric Perkins

Eric Perkins

Keith D. Pingley

Keith D. Pingley

Steve Poage

Steve Poage

Ryan E. Pritt

Ryan E. Pritt

Debra Jean Rodcliff

Debra Jean Rodcliff

Melissa Allison Rexrode

Melissa Allison Rexrode

Mark D. Reynolds

Mark D. Reynolds

Beth A. Roach

Beth A. Roach

Jerry T. Rose

Jerry T. Rose

Angela D. Rudd

Angela D. Rudd

F

Seniors

Steven S. Sanders

Steven S. Sanders

Mattie Ina Scott

Mattie Ina Scott

Karen Elaine Seabolt

Karen Elaine Seabolt

Philippa O. Shafer

Philippa O. Shafer

Lisa Ellen Sharp

Lisa Ellen Sharp

Shawne L. Shearer

Shawne L. Shearer

Chanrell Dawn Sheets

Chanrell Dawn Sheets

Dianna Sheppard

Dianna Sheppard

Kimberly Dawn Stull

Kimberly Dawn Stull

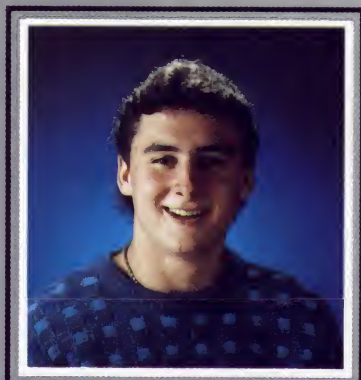

Bob Sumner

Bob Sumner

Lori Ann Terry

Lori Ann Terry

John K. Thompson

John K. Thompson

Jay E. Tibbs

Jay E. Tibbs

Michael Tracy

Michael Tracy

Cathy Jo Dumire Trainer

Cathy Jo Dumire Trainer

K. G. Underwood

K. G. Underwood

Bruce Vandevander

Bruce Vandevander

Beverly D. VanReenan

Beverly D. VanReenan

Dennis Ray VanReenen

Dennis Ray VanReenen

David S. Watson

David S. Watson

Robin Darlene Weatherholt

Robin Darlene Weatherholt

Douglas E. White

Douglas E. White

Jason T. Workman

Jason T. Workman

Stacey Workman

Stacey Workman

Seniors

Not Pictured:
Mike Jordan

People

Being an individual in today's world is very important to high school students. It seems each person has different talents and abilities.

People

Trying hard to do our best, we attempt to outdo the rest.
Each person struggling in his own way in hopes to be someone someday.

Spending their free time in the gym are seniors Jimmy Grimes, John Broyles, Brian Helmick, and Jennifer Akers. ←

Being a Senior is not only an honor, but it means the next step will be a big one! Some seniors are going to nearby colleges; others will go far away for college. Some are planning on the Armed Services, others marriage; and there are even a few that are not yet sure!

The senior class has been through many trials and tribulations to get where they are. In 1985/86, when they were just freshmen, the big flood hit the area and caused major destruction to many homes. The county worked together to get everything running again. In 1986/87 as a sophomore class the Varsity Boys Basketball Team got to go to State, for the first time in history. The school showed such spirit, and students were bused to Charleston to see the game. In 1987/88 was the beginning of a better school life because the junior year means class rings, the prom, ACT tests, and a little more freedom in choosing classes. The big hit of the year was the prom. For most juniors, this meant time out of classes to decorate and socialize. "Stand By Me" was the theme, and fun was had by ALL!!

Now that the big year has arrived, some are ready to go out into the big world and practice what they have been taught! The time has come for "Senioritis"!

SENIORITIS

Strikes again!

Injuries are a part of playing sports, as shown here by seniors April Moore and Randy Casteel. →

While sitting in homeroom, seniors Chantrell Sheets and Allison Rexrode seem anxious to start the day. →→

Protecting your head is a good idea, according to senior Ryan Pritt.↓

Senior Jennifer Akers had a big mess to clean up after her Physics egg drop.←

Part of the senior year is pictures, and here Donna Conley shows Marcella Rexrode hers.↓

For Christmas one lunch crew brought food from Kentucky Fried Chicken as a treat. (Seniors Patti McCarty, Mary Kinder, and Gina Mullenax.)↑

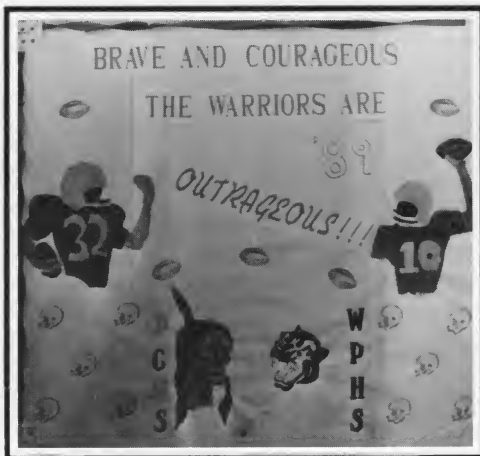

Sneaking through the hall without a note, senior Teresa Doyle got caught. ↑

Senior Marcella Rexrode doesn't think that today is going to be her day. ➡

"I can't do that!" is what Frankie Cassell, senior, is saying as he walks out of class. ➡

Seniors Doug White and Jimmy Grimes seem to be having a heated discussion during lunch. ➡➡

Talking about the old days seems easy for seniors Dreama Anderson and Randy Casreel. ↑

The seniors worked very hard to put together this banner for Spirit Week. ↑

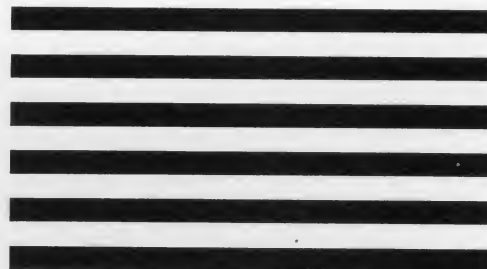

What would seniors Rosella Beverage and Lisa Sharp do without free time to "gab"?↓

Class of '89

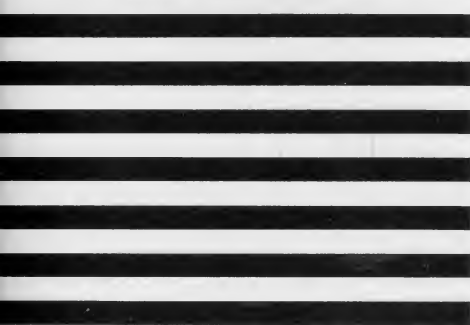

"We don't need this class," whispers Scott Sanders to Jesse Groseclose during class.↑

Senioritis must have struck Robin Weatherholt a little early.←

The Senior Committee consists of: David Coit, April Moore, Jay Tibbs, Bob Sumner, Randy Casteel, Jesse Groseclose, Jason Workman, Mary Kinder, Teresa Doyle and Lisa Sharp.↓

Missy Duncan and Brian Beverage are enjoying their breakfast.↓

Traci Alderman is showing off her award for an essay contest.↓

Phillippa Shafer is smiling as she recalls pleasant memories.↑

Jeanette Barton and Dianna Sheppard are best buddies as they share lunch.↑

Brian Helmick is distracted with an "egg-drop pillow" for a Physics experiment. ↓

Mark Reynolds seems to be saying something amusing to Jerry Rose. ↑

Mattie Scott asks for help to make it through the day. ←

Mary Kinder seems happy — as usual. ↑

JUNIORS

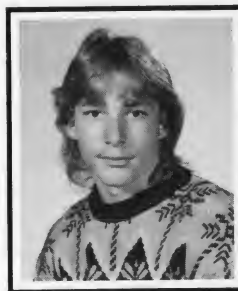

CLASS OF

'90

The junior year — when a student climbs from the pits of underclassmen to claim the title of upperclassman and fulfill his newly found rank to the fullest extent. A win during spirit week began what was to be an excellent year for the junior class. Next came the representative from Josten's, bearing the rings that signify a student's coming of age. In November the juniors again showed they were a class with an abundance of spirit by winning Sadie Hawkins Day. The year was capped off with the event probably most often associated with the junior year, the prom.

In academics, juniors increased their knowledge of the way our country operates and its culture. Economics introduced them to the realms of stocks, unions, and the free enterprise system. In English the juniors emerged themselves in such things as the works of Poe, America's earliest master of the horror tale, and Robert Frost's poems about the simple life in the United States.

All in all, this was an excellent year for the juniors. It served as the perfect prelude to their senior year, when they will reign supreme.

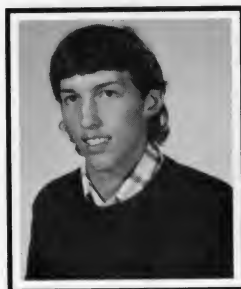

Jeff Akers

Robert Alkire

Shannon Arbogast

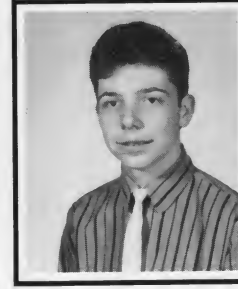

Jason Armstrong

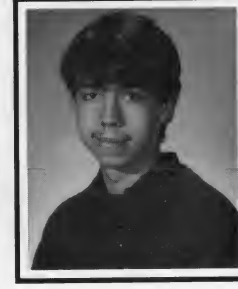

Sherry Armstrong

Brooksie Barnett

Kurr Behrens

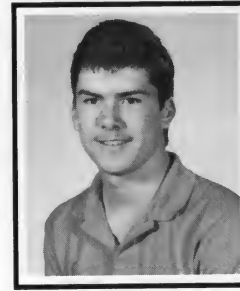

Terry Biggs

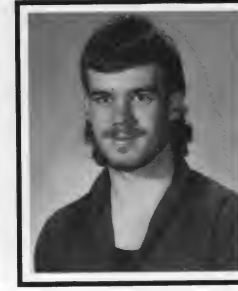

James Boehmer

Apryl Boyce

David Broce

John Burks

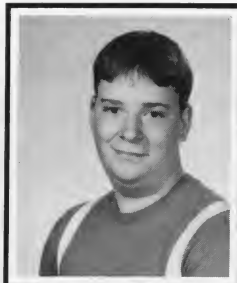

Randy Buzzard

Jennifer Canada

Brett Carr

Misty Cochran

Stacy Coleman

Carol Collins

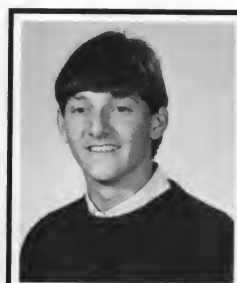

Dara Coulter

Tabatha Dean

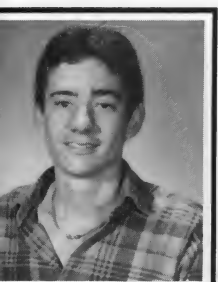

Sheila Evans

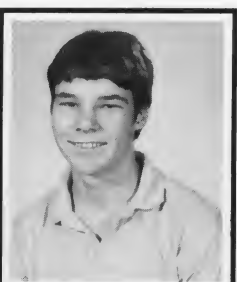

Curt Felton

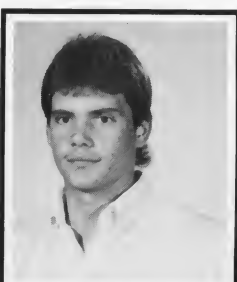

Lisa Foe

Brian Friel

Chris Friel

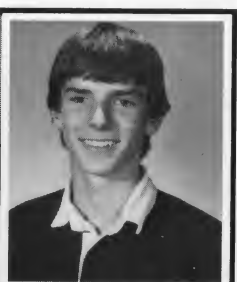

Jason Friel

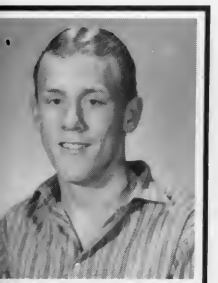

Pam Friel

Brad Frum

Todd Gay

Jamie Gibson

Naomi Gibson

George Goode

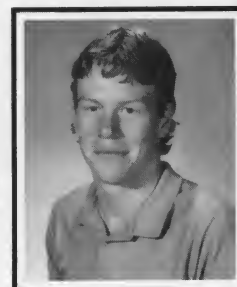

Juniors Tim Gordon and David McCloud find something amusing in front of them on their way to class.

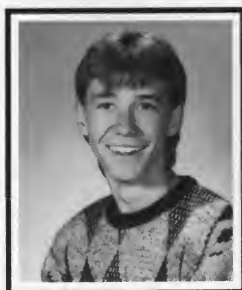

The Junior Class Officers are: Brad Munn, Treasurer; P. J. Harper, President; Lisa Foe, Secretary; and Tammy Workman, Vice-President.

Tammy Gordon

Timothy Gordon

Jamie Gragg

Melissa Gravely

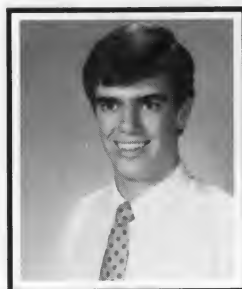

Ava Greer

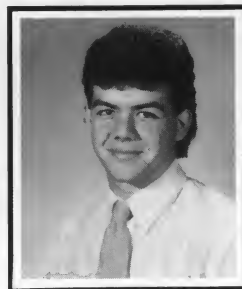

Laura Grimes

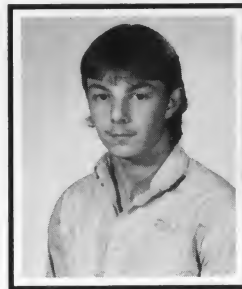

Kevin Hanna

Paul Harper

Scott Hayes

Steven Hickman

Greg Hively

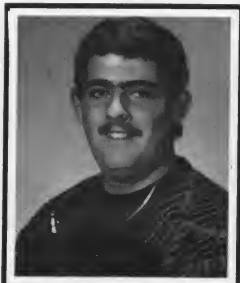

Starlena Holmes

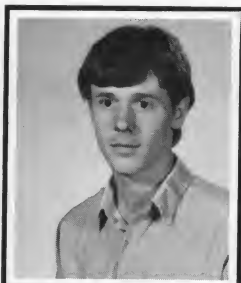

Michael Kelley

Buddy Kellison

David Kincaid

Scott Lambert

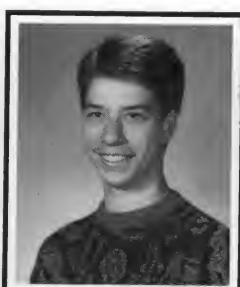

Julie Lambert

Allen Landis

Lisa Long

Michael Lane

Laura Layton

Nevin Lucobaugh

Lori Matheny

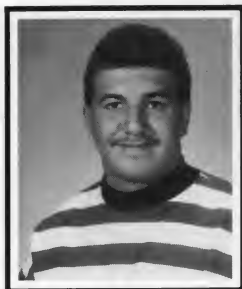

Vivian McCarty

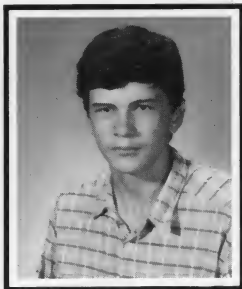

Working hard on an electronics project is Brett Carr. ↑

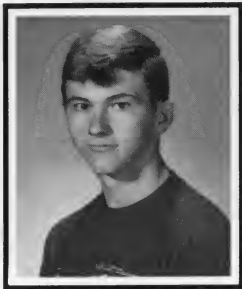

Eating lunch in the hall are Dawn Mortimer, Donnelle Morris, and Lisa Furr. ←

David McCloud

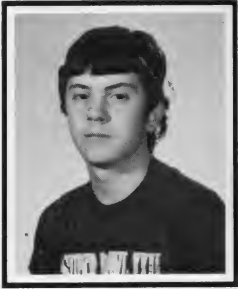

David McClure

Stacey McClure

Thomas Moats

Jeff Moore

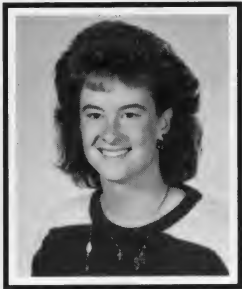

Donnelle Morris

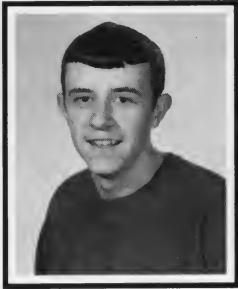

Dawn Mortimer

Melinda Mullenax

Julie Murphy

Curtis Murray

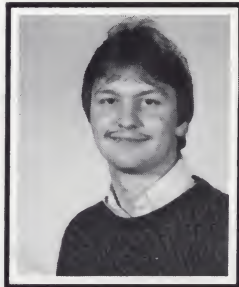

Brad Frum is holding a class ring, trying to decide which one to purchase. ↑

Mrs. Wiley and Jennifer Canada wait patiently for Jason Friel so they can "hit the road." ➔

Tabbi Dean uses the monitor to obtain economics information. ➔

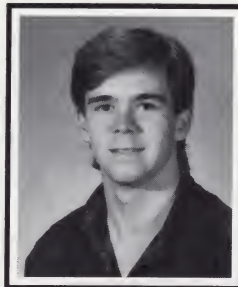

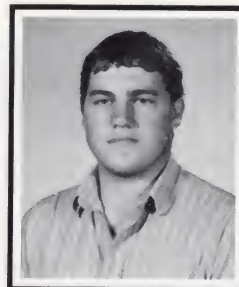

Jerry Nelson

Lori Nelson

Shawn Nottingham

David Peacock

Melissa Poage

Brian Puffenbarger

David Puffenbarger

Tammy Puffenbarger

Sharon Ray

Ronald Rexrode

Debra Rose

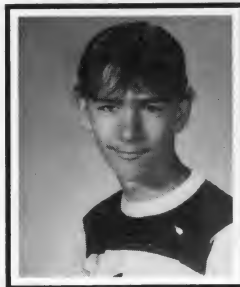

Aceil Ryder

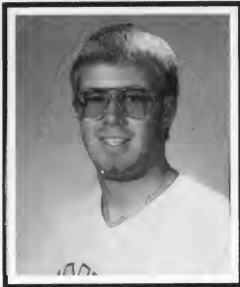

Taking a break to pose for the camera are Martin Sharp, Buddy Kellison, Shannon Arbogast, Mike Lane, Travis Shinaberry, and Shawn Nottingham. ➤

Jennifer Canada rushes to finish an electronics lesson before the bell rings. ➤

John Ryder

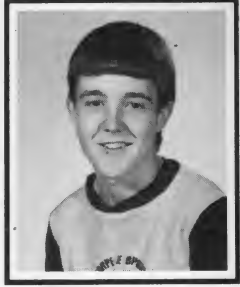

Chris Scruggs

Michelle Seabolt

Lisa D. Sharp

Martin Sharp

Kelvin Shearer

Tina Shearer

Travis Shinaberry

Susan Shreve

Angie Stanley

Chris Tenney

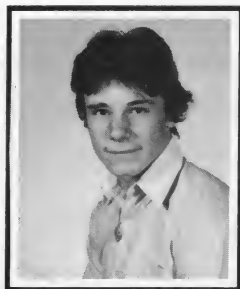

Roberta Tinney

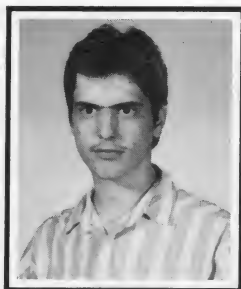

Working hard to complete an assignment are Mrs. Seielsrad's Junior English class. ➡

Pictured is the junior "wall," which tied for first place with the seniors in the wall competition for Homecoming. ➡

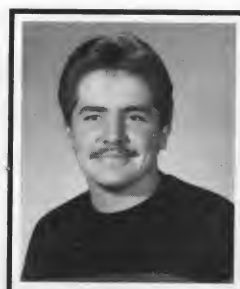

Tyrone Tinney

Brad Totten

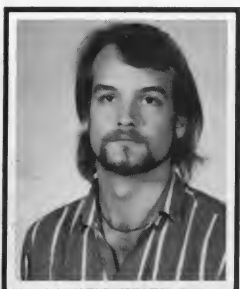

Beverly Tracy

Gary Tracy

Mike Vance

Phillip Warren

Leslie Wilfong

Terri Wilson

Melissa Wingler

Rachel Withers

Jenny Workman

Tammy Workman

Overly excited in the morning are Jason Friel, Buddy Kellison, Sheila Evans, and George Goode. ⚡

Enjoying some free time are a few juniors as they catch up on the latest happenings. ⚡

Sophomores Stick Together

Friends ... Memories ... Challenges ... The sophomore class portrays "togetherness." This year was a promising year for the sophomores.

Tests, quizzes, and homework. It was not hard to pick out sophomores because they were the ones who looked sleepy all the time. With courses such as Biology, Health, and World Cultures — and for the challenging students both Geometry and Algebra II — many hours had to be put in outside of class. A common question heard was "Did you get your Biology done?"

Sophomore class sponsors were: Mr. Ziegler (director), Mr. Hall, Mr. Cain, Mr. Sheets, Mrs. Howell, Ms. Blankenship, Mrs. Leary, Mrs. Schroeber, Mrs. Seielstad, and Mrs. Shank.

Class officers were Tina Palmer (president), Alisha Jesselli (vice president), Jody Morgan (secretary), and Kelley Gordon (treasurer).

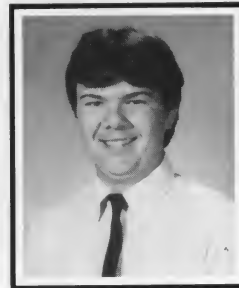

The Sophomore Class Officers are Tina Palmer (president), Alisha Jesselli (vice president), Jody Morgan (secretary), and Kelley Gordon (treasurer). ↑

Kramer Arbogast

Shane Alikakos

Richard Barb

Juli Beckwith

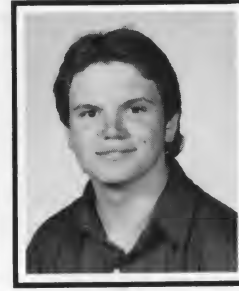

Lisa Bennett

Paul Beverage

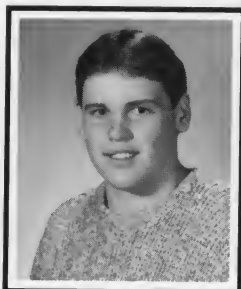

Jennifer Blankenship

Kenneth Brock

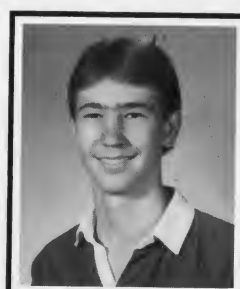

Cindi Burke

Joey Bussard

Jeanette Canada

William Carpenter

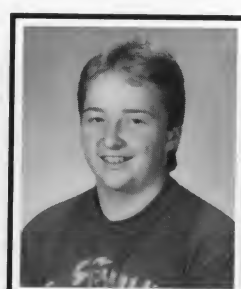

John Clutter

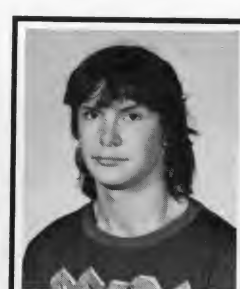

Pam Collins

Melissa Cooke

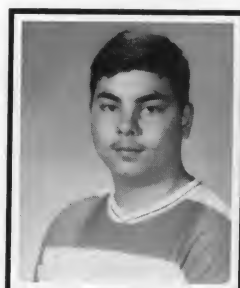

Tom Crickenberger

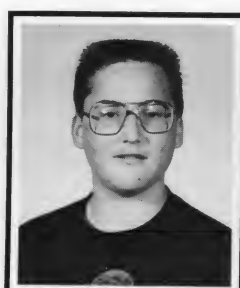

Donald Currence

P. C. Dean

Henry Dilley

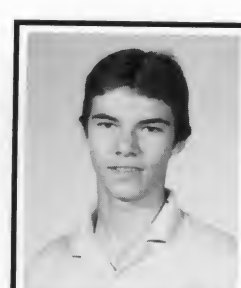

David Doyle

J. P. Duncan

Tena Dunz

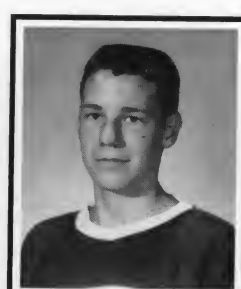

Brian Friel

Eric Gainer

Melissa Galford

Rudy Gelis

Jacklynn Gibson

Nathan Gibson

Richard Hill is concentrating on his speech. ↑

Jody Morgan and Kelley Gordon, sophomores, spend their lunch time together talking about how their day has been so far. ➤

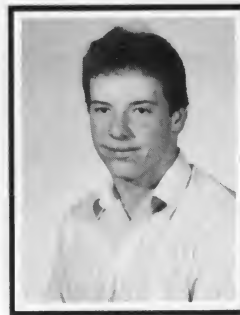

Susan Goldizen, Teresa Mick, and Cherie Mace, sophomores, seem to be uninterested in their work. ➤

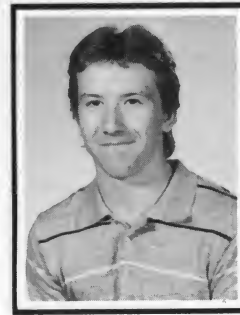

Susan Goldizen

Kelley Gordon

Joey Gragg

Donald Greathouse

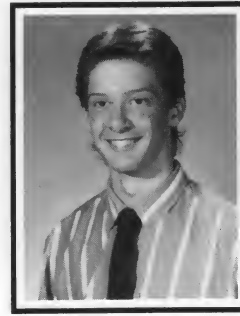

Missy Hefner

Richard Hill

Richard Hill, Jr.

Brian Hipes

Harrier Holley

Charles Irvine

Adam Jackson

Roger Jackson

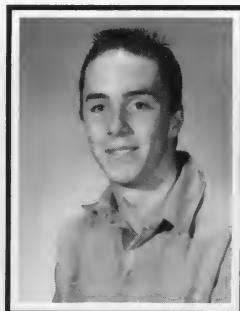

Alisha Jesselli

Ruthie Johnson

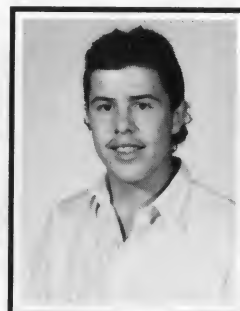

Tereso Kershner

Dana Kinnison

Jason Lane

Richard Lane

Carrie Mace

Cherie Mace

Loretta Mallow

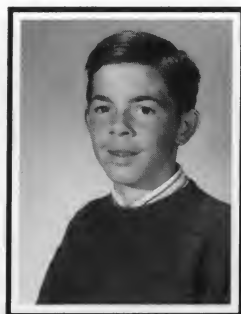

Mary Mann

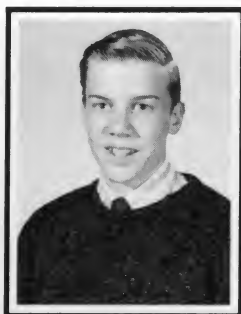

Heather McGee

Katie McGreal

Matthew McKean

Darin McKenney

Melissa Mick

Teresa Mick

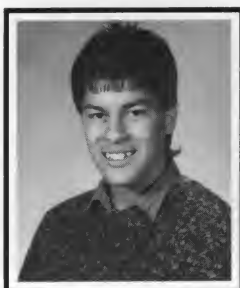

Pam Miller

P.C. Dean seems to be finished with Biology and waiting on the bell.↑

Roger Jackson is engrossed in his studies.→

Justin Mitchell

Carol Morgan

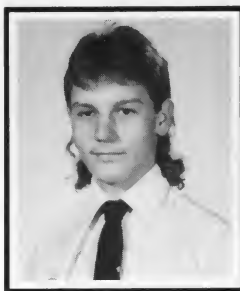

Crystal Morgan

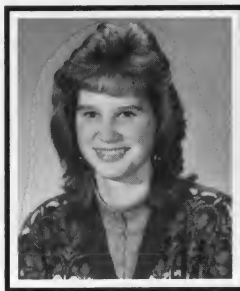

Jody Morgan

Donna Morrison

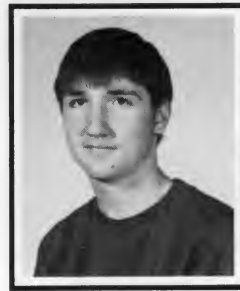

Mark Mospan

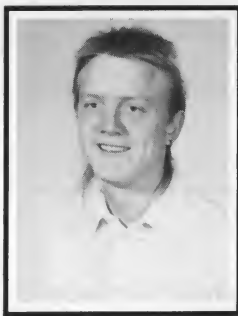

Terra Owens

Tina Palmer

Donald Poage

Luther Pritt

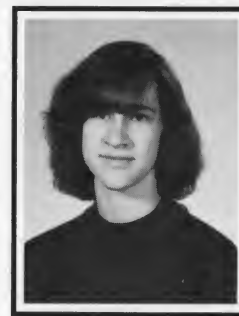

Shelia Queen

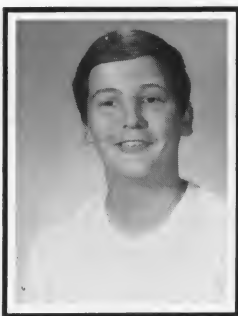

Susan Rataiczak

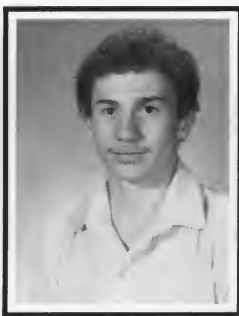

Adrian Rawle

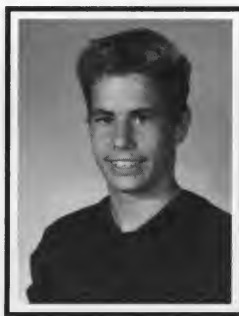

Tina Reigel

John Rose

Garrett Sisler

Elbert Sharpe

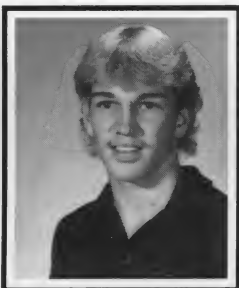

Jamie Smith

Lois Starks

Jennifer Sutton

Marhew Taylor

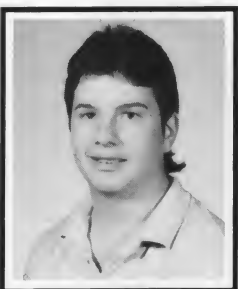

Jennifer Terry

Jacqueline Thompson

Tony Turbyfill

James VanReenan

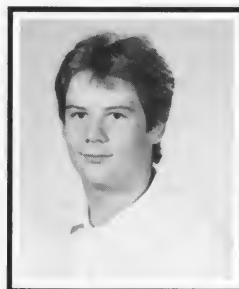

Michelle Warner

Jeff Weber

Bonnie White

Travis Workman

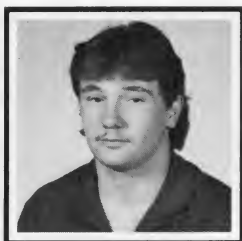

Not pictured: John Berry, Eddie Brown, Jason Cassell, Bobby Dean, Albert Defibaugh, Billy Gilmore, Kevin McCarty, Tim Mortimer, Dawn Puffenbarger, Chris Sharp, Steven Shearer, Terry Sheets, Joe Vandevender, and Michael Wolfe.

Lindell Alderman

Stephanie Ames

Charles Arbogast

Lewis Arbogast

Jennifer Armstrong

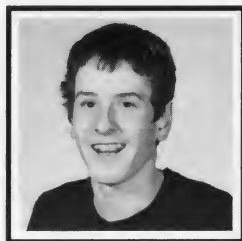

Lucinda Armstrong

Amanda Barb

Tammy Barb

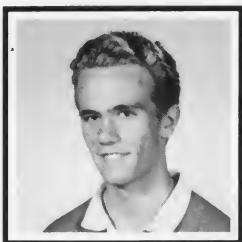

Cameron Barkley

Shelvy Barrett

Christine Baxter

Johnnie Beverage

Freshmen, the newcomers at PCHS, started off the year with a picnic. The purpose of this picnic was to bring these classmates from the three schools together to make one unit.

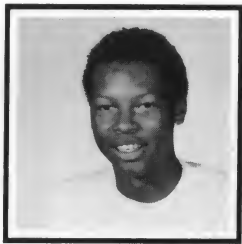

The freshmen began fundraising by selling popcorn during lunch shifts. They already have ideas for the years to come.

The freshmen class officers were: President - Lindell Alderman; Vice President - Kristi Miller; Secretary - Chris Coy; and Treasurer - Lyn Lewis. Class sponsors were: Mr. Herold (Director), Mrs. Irvine, Mrs. Leach, Mrs. Flegel, Mrs. Rhea, Mrs. Beverage, Mr. Taylor, Mrs. Taylor, and Mr. Thompson. The class sponsors and class officers worked together to find new ideas to earn money for their class.

Young love is displayed by Dawn Rodriguez (freshman) and J. P. Duncan (sophomore). ↑

They have arrived!!

Charles Boggs

Janer Bradshaw

Belva Brewster

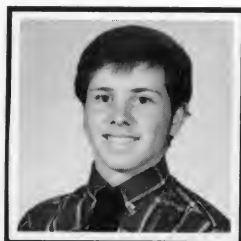

Rachel Broyles

Amy Burks

Rebecca Campbell

Bo Casteel

Jay Clark

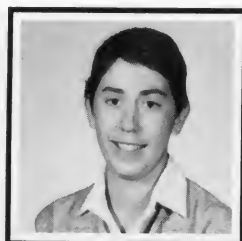

David Cochran

Charles Cole

Randall Coleman

John Combs

Donald Cook

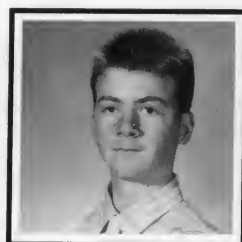

Lori Cook

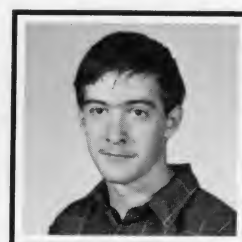

Trey Cooke

John Corder

Tim Coughlin

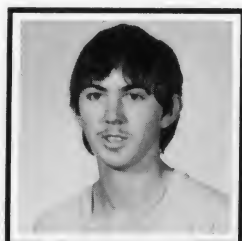

Christopher Coy

Steve Curry

Arlene Dean

Eric Dean

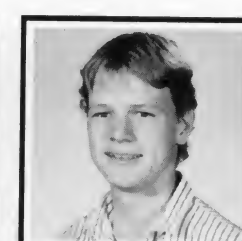

Lynn Dean

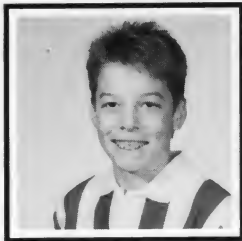

Ann Dilley

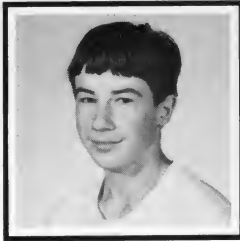

David Dilley

Brad Dunz

Damian Elliott

Larry Evans

Jim Exline

Molly Fuller

Susan Gainer

Debbie Galford

Shane Galford

Tara Gares

John Gibson

Stephanie Gibson

Cheryl Green

Melissa Grimes

Linda Armstrong and Pam Jackson, freshmen, enjoy their Home Ec. class.

Dottie Malcom seems embarrassed as the camera catches her smile. ↑

The 1988-89 Freshman Class Officers are Lindell Alderman, President, Kristi Miller, Vice-President, Lyn Lewis, Secretary, and Chris Coy, Treasurer. ↑

Trampus Hammons

Heather Hanshew

Stephanie Hope

Cynthia Horner

Joe Howard

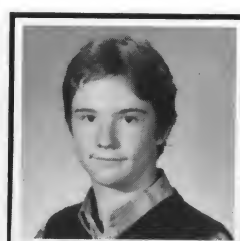

Rachel Irvine

Pam Jackson

Melissa Jordan

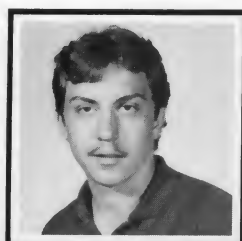

Sam Kincaid

Mark King

Hope Kinnison

Mitchell Kramer

James Lambert

Stacey Lambert

Michael Layne

Lynelle Lewis

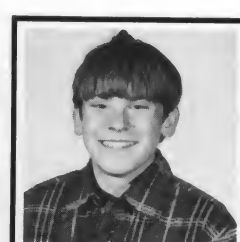

Chawn Loudermilk

Angie Lovelace

Audrey Lovelace

Daniel Madison

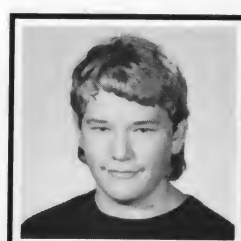

Tina Madison

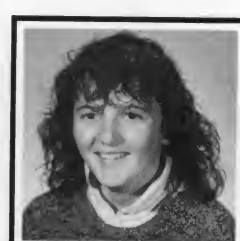

Dottie Malcom

Lori Martin

Charles May

Susan McKenney

Dawn McLaughlin

Richard McMillion

Clinton Mick

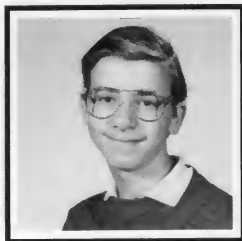

Kristi Miller

John Paul Mills

Rick Moore

Lewis Mullenax

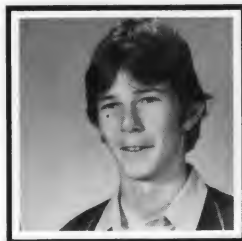

Timothy Nicely

Stacey Oliver

Ina Pritt

John Pritt

Kathryn Poage

Freshman Joe Howard is walking at a steady pace to his next class. ↑

Freshman Janet Bradshaw seems to be enjoying her physical science lab. ↑

Melanie Riffe

Carol Roberts

Dawn Rodriguez

William Russell

Kimberly Ryder

Aracoma Sapanski

Rebekah Schwartz

Christine Seabolt

Lisa Sharp

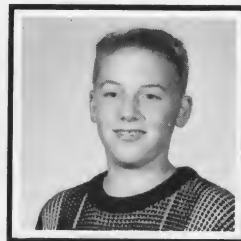

Leslie Sheets

John Shinaberry

Kim Shinaberry

David Smith

Candy Snead

Catrina Sparks

Michael Taylor

Tawnya Terry

Michael Thomas

Janell Turner

Jessica Walton

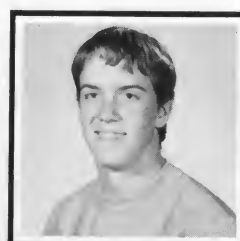

Angelena Wilfong

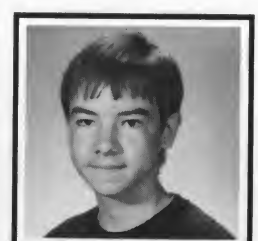

Teresa Wilfong

Amy Workman

Matthew Workman

Ben Ziegler

Outstanding in Their Fields

Keeping students interested in coursework and trying to develop responsible adults are two huge challenges faced by PCHS faculty and staff.

Our staff shows a total of 631 years experience, with the average being 15 years. They attended colleges and universities throughout West Virginia and various other states. Our students are offered up-to-date classes that begin to prepare them for their future studies or positions in the work force. However, with state funding being drastically reduced, this has been an intense year for many staff members, wondering if this is their final year here.

Our custodians work dilligently to keep our school looking much newer than its 19 years. The cooks put in long hours preparing nutritious meals for our students and staff, as well as catering many special dinners throughout the year.

The faculty and staff pull together to try to make our school a nice place to learn.

Norman Alderman
Cumberland College
English

Gary Beverage
Penn Technical Institute
Industrial Electronics

Linda Beverage
Marshall University
Learning Center, Remedial

Steve Bland
Potomac State College
Ag. Production, Shop

Retra Blankenship
WVU
Librarian, Photography

Mary Sue Burns
Oberlin College
Chemistry, Physics

Jack Cain
WVU
Ag. Science and FFA

Anna Lee Dean
Marshall University
Business

Karen Friel
Marshall University
Spanish

Ron Hall
Glenville State
Band

Jeff Haight
Marshall University
Physical Education

Lyla Howell
WVU
Guidance

Alice Irvine
WVU
Mathematics

Pat Keller
Shepherd College
Social Studies

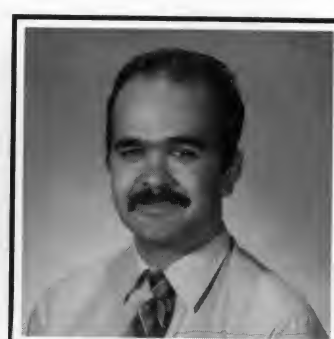

Carolyn Leach
James Madison
Basic English

Roselyn Leary
Loma Linda University Art

J. William Leary
U.S.C.
Computers, Speech

Melvin Lindsey
Fairmont State
History, Science

Steve McDaniel
James Madison
Assistant Principal, Athletic Director

Kathy McGee
California State
Mathematics

Denise McNeel
University of Colorado
French

Gene Rexrode
WVU, Marshall, Glenville
Guidance Counselor

Nancy Rexrode
Secretary

Teresa Rhea
Fairmont State
Business, Journalism

Reta Rose
WVU
Health/P.E.

Janet Shank
DGE
Special Ed. Aide

Delores Seielstad
U. of Nevada and Colorado
English

Pam Sharpes
Radford University
Biology, Science

Bob Sheets
Fairmont State
English

Barbara Schober
WVU
Nursing Substitute

Sue Shupe
WVU
Alternative Program

Linda Stewart
WVU
Business

Quentin Stewart
Marshall University
Social Studies

Fran Taylor
WVU
Special Education

Sam Taylor
WVU
Carpentry

Richard Thompson
WVU
Welding I and II

Kenneth Vance
WVU
Principal

Sharon Vance
Glenville State
Gifted Education

Mike Wilburn
Fairmont State College
Physical Education

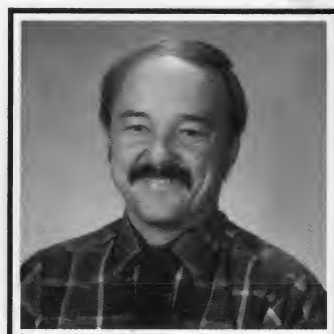

Linda VanReenen
West Virginia Wesleyan
Home Ec.

Kay Wiley
Glenville State College
Drivers Ed.

Cora Lee Wyatt
Accountant

Richard Ziegler
WVU
Electricity

Agnes Bennett
Substitute Cook

Evelyn Beverage
Head Cook

Nancy Green
Cook

Morgan McComb
Custodian

Marie Nottingham
Cook

Joyce Varner
Cook

Not pictured: Mike Burns, Forestry Louise Flegel, English

Busily recording grades is Mrs. Seielstad. ↑

Faculty "cheerleaders" performing during powderpuff football were: Mrs. Flegel, Mrs. Rhea, Mrs. Friel, Mrs. Wiley, Mrs. VanReenen, and Mrs. Stewart. This was a performance to remember! ←

Free at last

Miss Dean can hardly wait to cut her retirement cake. ➔

Three staff members are spending their final year at PCHS. Retiring after this school year will be Mrs. Leach, one of the English teachers here at PCHS. She has taught school for thirty-one years, eight years in Kanawha County and the other twenty-three years at PCHS, Green Bank High, Green Bank Middle, Durbin Middle, and Durbin Elementary Schools. At PCHS she has taught Remedial Reading.

After retirement, Mrs. Leach plans to substitute here in Pocahontas County. "I'll really miss the students after all these years, but I'll enjoy visiting my own children and grandchildren and doing things at my own speed, including a little loafing," said Mrs. Leach.

Miss Dean came to Pocahontas County schools in 1960 with six years of teaching experience and has since spent the last twenty-nine years teaching within the county school system. She has thoroughly enjoyed her teaching career in Pocahontas County because she feels the county provides an environment where few problems arise that cannot adequately be handled. After retiring from her teaching career, she would like to travel and experience different cultures.

For eighteen years Joe Jonese served as custodian here at Pocahontas County High. Mr. Jonese said that what he enjoyed most about working here was being around the young people. He went on to say that he was also pleased to see the number of kids that had gone on to make a better life for themselves. For four of the years he worked here, Joe also served as the school mascot because he felt it helped the school spirit.

Mrs. Leach demonstrates the classic "evil eye" one last time for the camera. ➔

Reading instructor Mrs. Leach encourages one of her students to hurry and finish his work. ↓

Free at last!

Joe Jonese also served as school mascot when he first began at PCHS, as can be seen as he steadies his horse before a football game.↓

Retiring custodian Joe Jonese took the cake at his retirement party.↓

Miss Dean searches through accounting charts trying to find the correct answers to the day's work.↓

Out of Sight! Out of Mind!!

"Senioritis" struck the class right after Christmas break — only 99 school days were left! Not only did this break begin the countdown to graduation, but it also began the countdown to senior events. The first event was Cap and Gown pictures, which were April 27. This gave the class the chance to be together in cap and gowns and really "look like graduates."

On May 9, after getting rescheduled once, the class was served by their sponsors at the Senior Luncheon. After lunch Mr. Alderman entertained the class with the Audio-Visual Yearbook.

The last senior class event was on May 24; after Awards Day, the class traveled to the Observatory for the Senior Picnic.

Finally the big graduation night came, and the Class of 1989 got to make their way across stage, to start their futures. Invocation was done by Beth Roach, Welcome - Scott Sanders (Co-Salutatorian), Poem - Debbie Kiner, Music - Selina Clifton, Remarks - William McNeel, Student Address - Lisa Sharp (Valedictorian), Presentation of Class - Jesse Groseclose (Co-Salutatorian), Presentation of Diplomas - Kenneth Vance, Address of Appreciation - Beverly VanReenan, Benediction - Michelle Hiner, and Recessional by Linda VanReenen.

Graduate Cathy Trainer seems to be excited as she leaves for home after graduation.↑

Karen Seabolt and Brian Beverage seem to be pleased to have high school days behind them as they get ready to leave.↑

Honor graduates are: Debbie Kiner, Michelle Hiner, Beverly VanReenan, Beth Roach, Scott Sanders, Lisa Sharp, and Jesse Groseclose.↑

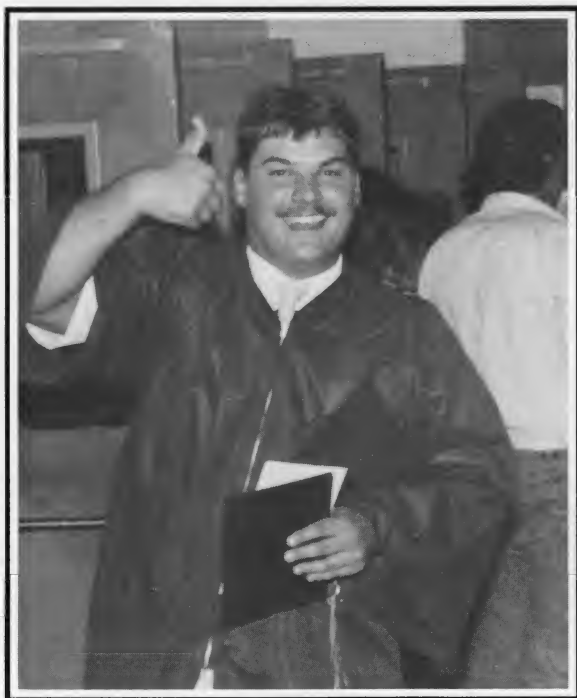

S elina Clifton and Tim Dean say good-bye with happiness.↑

D enton Circosta walks proudly down the aisle to take his seat.↑

M arsha Grimes and Marcella Rexrode show their excitement at their graduation.↑

D ennis VanReenen is eager to leave these halls.↑

M issy Duncan is having a few last words with Journalism teacher Mrs. Rhea at graduation.↑

Doug White is happy as he shows us "thumbs up" at graduation. ↑

Sandy Moore looks tired and relieved after graduation. ↑

Junior Marshalls are Jenny Workman and Randy Buzzard. ↑

Graduates change their tassels and become graduates of PCHS. ↑

"Will it ever begin?!"↑

Robin Weatherholt is proud to receive her diploma.←

Kim Stull, Chantell Sheets, and Shawne Shearer seem pleased to have their diplomas and eager to get home.↑

John Hannah is filled with joy graduation night as he says his last goodbye to PCHS.↑

Billy Doyle — "Wow, I made it!"↖

Senior Class Officers are: Bob Sumner, President; Randy Casteel, Vice-President; Mary Kinder, Secretary; and Jay Tibbs, Treasurer. ←

the 1989 graduating class — left to right, front row: Debbie Kiner, Lisa Sharp, Brian Beverage, John Broyles, Dennis VanReenen, Beverly VanReenan, Teresa Doyle, Tim Dean, Randy Casteel, Missy Duncan, Brian McClure, Pam Grogg, Missy McLaughlin, Sheri Kerns. Second row: Jerdina Mullenax, Barbara Miller, Sandy Moore, Chantrell Sheers, Allison Rexrode, Brian Helmick, Paul Barrett, April Moore, Rosella Bever, Philippa Shafer, Stacey Workman, Carhy Trainer, Robin Weatherholt, Angie Rudd. Third Row: Lori Terry, Nancy Hefner, Frankie Cassell, on Workman, Michael Buzzard, Willie Mullenax, Shawne Shearer, Donna Conley, Becky Long, David Watson, Marcella Rexrode, Kim Tonya Parker. Fourth Row: Mary Ann Galford, Michelle Hiner, Marsha Grimes, Dreama Anderson, Partti McCarty, Kenney Hill, Traci Alder, Monte Friel, Kevin Thompson, Doug White, Bill Coughlin, Jesse Groseclose. Fifth row: Regina Mullenax, Beth Roach, Jimmy Grimes, Sumner, Jay Tibbs, Danny Carpenter, Kevin Halterman, John Hannah, Keith Pingley, Scott Sanders, Mary Kinder, Selina Clifton, Jennifer Perkins. Sixth row: Mark Reynolds, Jerry Rose, K. G. Underwood, Steve Poage, Ronnie Friel, Bruce Vandevander, Mike Tracy, Scott Pennigton, Perkins, Karen Seabolt, Debra Radcliff. Seventh row: Tony McKenney, Billy Doyle, Dan Bennett, James Morgan.

M r. Hall hands senior Doug White a certificate for his dedication to the band.↓

S enior Lisa Sharp is given the Robert C. Byrd Award Mr. Vance for being the class of '89's valedictorian.

The National Honor Society's annual awards banquet was held on May 18. Jackets, ties, and dresses were the order of the evening for students being honored. And there were many being honored.

Students receiving scholarships this year were: Nancy Hefner, Lisa Sharp, Keith Pingley, Beverly VanReenan, and Debbie Radcliff. Students were also recognized for academic achievement; these were Lisa Sharp, Scott Sanders, P. J. Harper, Lori Martin, Ben Ziegler, Melissa Grimes, Matthew McKean, Tina Riegel, Terry Biggs, Beverly Tracy, Allen Landis, Jeff Weber, Cindi Burke, Lindell Alderman, Dave McClure, Jenny Workman, Beverly VanReenan, and Debbie Kiner. Other students were commended for athletic achievement. They were Bill Coughlin and Randy Casteel. Also recognized were Jenny Workman, Brad Frum, Dave Coit, and Shawn Nottingham.

It was nice to receive a meal and recognition for a job well done.

Senior Jay Tibbs continues the list of awards at the Awards Day Ceremony.↑

Senior Jimmy Grimes accepts a creative writing award from Mrs. Seielstad for his written work.

Achievement Awards

Nancy Hefner, senior, proudly accepts a corsage from Miss Alice Waugh's sister, after receiving the Alice Waugh scholarship. ↑

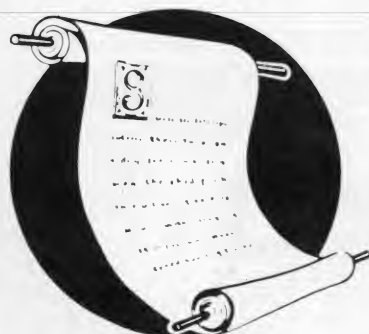

Senior Jesse Groseclose starts the Achievement Banquet off with a few opening remarks. ◀

A firm handshake seems to be in order for senior Missy Duncan as she accepts the Marine Athletic Award. ↑

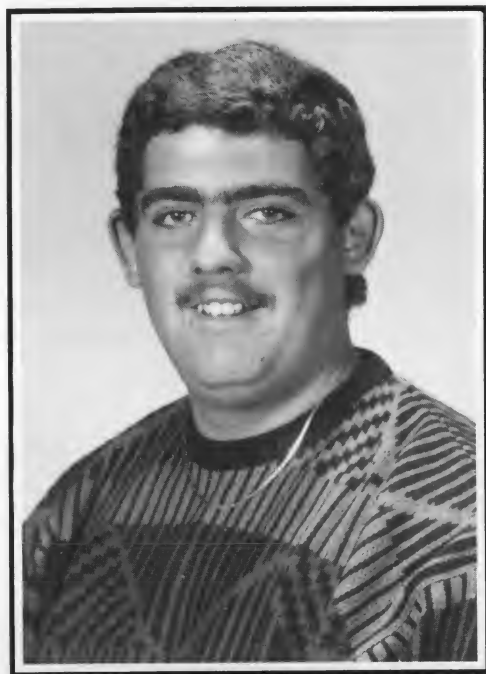

Mrs. Friel gives recognition to senior Dianna Sheppard for her efforts in Spanish. ◀

Our yearbook is dedicated to the memory of our beloved friend,
Elbert F. Kellison, II, who truly earned his nickname "Buddy."

Elbert F. "Buddy" Kellison
March 20, 1972
April 30, 1989

A part of me was lost today because a loved one went away,
In sadness we were forced to part,
An empty ache is in my heart,
Thoughts rush in — tears fill my eyes,

Great clouds now dim my sunny skies,
And loneliness is mine to know
As on the way through life I go.

And yet the memory of all that was is still with me,
Things and places where we two found such pleasant things to do.
So at last I've come to see

Parting's something meant to be
And beauty shared does not take wing
It's there for the remembering.

— Edith Shubert

In this sad world of ours, sorrow comes to all; and to the young it comes with bitterest agony, because it takes them unawares.
The older have learned to expect it.

— Abraham Lincoln